11 U. S. PLANES LAND AT LISBON

LISBON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Eleven American planes were reported to have landed on Portuguese soil while more than 50 were sighted flying southward over this neutral nation.

The size of the formations reported headed across Portugal suggests another large-scale aerial reinforcement of Allied troops in French North Africa.

Allied parachutists staged the longest air-borne invasion in history when they flew in transport planes 1500 miles non-stop from England to participate in the assault on Oran Nov. 8.

RAF BOMBS RIP PRINCIPAL U-BOAT BASE

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The air ministry announced today the submarine base of Lorient, on the Atlantic coast of France, was heavily attacked last night by RAF bombers, two of which failed to return.

Explosives looted by the raiders added to the havoc wrought by American heavy bombers in daylight Dec. 30 on the port works and U-boat pens of Lorient, on the Brittany coast 100 miles south of Brest. Three bombers were lost in the Dec. 30 attack.

With a population of about 50,000, Lorient was the site of a French naval arsenal, building yards and machinery plants before it was taken over by the Germans in May, 1940.

This was the 58th Allied raid on Lorient and was considered evidence of a renewed determination to wipe out Hitler's prized U-boat base.

In a footnote to the communiqué the air ministry commented: "The great effort involved in keeping up the quick turnaround of large numbers of U-boats means that practically the whole of its (Lorient's) activities in one way or another is devoted to the submarine campaign."

It was said concrete protected pens at Keroman, near Lorient, shelter 20 U-boats. At Lorient itself there are drydocks, stores of weapons, fuel and machinery, barracks for U-boat crews, railway yards, power stations and other installations of many kinds.

A Royal Canadian Air Force communiqué disclosed more than one Canadian bomber squadron flying Halifaxes and Wellingtons took part in the Lorient attack.

The Iberian peninsula has been buffeted by bad weather conditions for several days.

The 11 planes were said to have come down at Portela Sacavem, the Lisbon airport.

The aerial activity came as storms continued to damage crops and property in a score of villages and hamlets in North Portugal. Lightning was widespread.

Dispatches from Madrid told of a violent storm in the Bay of Biscay and along the Galician coast which sent scores of ships into ports for safety and delayed the voyages of transatlantic liners. Three or more fishing schooners were sunk and buildings were wrecked.

Under normal procedure belligerent planes which land on neutral soil are subject to internment, just as are troop units which stray into neutral territory. It was not brought out definitely whether the reported landings were forced.

Royal Family In Duce's Drive

LONDON, Jan. 15 (INS)—Italy's royal family, some churchmen and social reformers today are engaged in efforts to bind discontented elements in Italy into a united front for continuance of the war against the democracies. Reuter's News Agency said today.

The campaign is a result of instruction given to high Fascist officials by Mussolini, it was said.

The royal family now is touring Sicily with flags and fanfares and also visited bombed cities to bolster Italian morale, it was added.

Reds Break 3 Nazi Lines

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Jan. 15 (AP)—The rapid pace of Russian vanguards in the drive north-westward from the mid-Caucasus brought up the problem of reinforcement and supply today, but dispatches said the winter offensive continued to make progress on both the Caucasus and the Don fronts.

Red army men occupied several more strong points in the Caucasus and the lower Don region, overriding strong German resistance, observers reported.

Having blanketed in three days a vast triangle which the Germans took three months to conquer—the area between Moudok, Nalchik and Mineralnye Vody—the Red army now has the job of moving up its main forces to support the men consolidating newly-won positions for further thrusts toward Rostov.

A heavy toll has been exacted from Axis contingents in the lower Don valley, it was reported officially.

Red Star said the breaking of the German lines on three main fronts, the Caucasus, the Don and the central region, had spread confusion and uncertainty in the ranks of the invaders and urged the Red army to press its advantage.

Red foot troops are hiking as much as 30 miles daily to catch up with the tanks, cavalry and motorized infantry. German counterattacks appeared strongest on the central front southwest of Velikie Luki and along the lower Don.

Red Star said the invaders launched several counterattacks in recaptured districts west and northwest of Mineralnye Vody, on the Rostov-Baku line, but Soviet troops repulsed them.

The Caucasus army has put 125 miles behind it to push through Sotnikovskoye, within 25 miles of the Kalmyk steppes, in the new gains announced in that region.

YANKS LASH TUNIS PORTS

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 15 (AP)—Flying Fortresses attacked the eastern Tunisian supply ports of Sousse and Sfax yesterday, leaving the harbor areas aflame from a downpour of explosives, it was announced today.

Lighter two-motored B-26 Marauders battered rail lines and highways along the coastal road at Mahares, on the Gulf of Gabes 20 miles southwest of Sfax, and American fighters ranged widely over the battle area.

An Allied communiqué said

"there was no change in the ground situation."

The Allied aerial attack also was kept under way from bases in the east where American and South African RAF planes battered at Rommel's supply lines and air bases along the Tripolitanian coast and into Tunisia.

A Cairo communiqué said 13 Allied pilots were missing after widespread operations in which at least eight Axis fighters were downed.

The Italian high command reported considerably increased air action over the Libyan front and said German fighters intercepted large formation of Allied planes and shot down 28, many of them heavy bombers.

A forward P-40 outfit led by Maj. Philip G. Cochran, of Erie, Pa., who recently bombed a German headquarters at Kairouan, was credited with six victories in three days.

Cochran and First Lieut. Thomas A. Thomas, Jr., of Ada, Okla., shot down a Focke-Wulf 190 Jan. 11. On the following day the unit shot down three others, credit for them going to Lieuts. Walter Scholl, New York city, a former Cornell University football star; James H. Radden, Hattiesburg, Miss., and Carson W. Bounds, Philadelphia, Miss.

Cochran got another plane Jan. 13, and Lieut. E. T. Bent, Pittsford, N. Y., also shot one down. All told, American airmen bagged 15 planes—nine Junkers 88's, four Messerschmitt 109's, and two Focke-Wulf 190's.

RUSSIA—The Reds drew closer to Rostov from the southeast today in occupying Sotnikovskoye after pushing from Zhuravskoye . . . while the Russians in the lower Don drive were operating within 60 miles of Rostov.

FIRST WOMAN, 2 MEN DIE IN CHAIR IN SO. CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 15 (INS)—Mrs. Sue Logue, 42-year-old former Edgefield County school teacher, today became the first woman to die in South Carolina's electric chair. She was put to death with two men for the slaying of Davis W. Timmerman in September, 1941.

Executed with her were George Logue, her brother-in-law, and Clarence Bagwell.

The triple execution brought to eight the number who have died in the wake of a strange feud which started three years ago in an argument over a calf.

Mrs. Logue's husband, Wallace, was first to die. Timmerman was tried for the murder, but acquitted. Timmerman was shot to death a few months later.

3 OFFICERS SLAIN

Then two officers who went to arrest Sue and George Logue were met with a hail of gunfire and slain. Fred Dorn, a tenant on the Logue farm, also was killed in the battle.

The State claimed Sue and George Logue had paid Bagwell $500 to kill Timmerman.

Attorneys for the trio had battled vigorously to save them from the chair, and their execution came less than 24 hours after an appeal to the United States Supreme Court for a stay of execution had been denied.

Mrs. Logue was the first to go to the chair. She appeared only slightly nervous as she entered the death chamber.

She was clad in a pair of gray slacks, the right leg of which had been rolled above one knee, a white shirt and a kerchief over her shaved head. She carried a Bible in one hand. Six ministers, including the Rev. W. M. Smith, chaplain of the women's prison, stood near by.

Taking her place in the chair she placed the Bible in her lap and then watched the guards as they strapped her in place.

"No, sir; I am ready to go," she replied when asked if she had anything to say.

DEATH MASK SLIPS

The current was turned on at 6:17 1/2 a. m., and the death mask—which was a bit too large for her—slipped down, exposing a portion of her face during the death struggle. Dr. M. W. Cheaten, prison physician, pronounced her dead three minutes and 14 seconds later.

Her brother-in-law, George Logue, was calm when he took his place in the chair at 6:25 a. m.

The current was snapped on at 6:27 and three minutes and 42 seconds later he was pronounced dead.

Bagwell—the only one of the three who had any sleep during the night—was mumbling in an undertone as he took his place in the chair at 6:39.

Just before the switch was thrown he said:

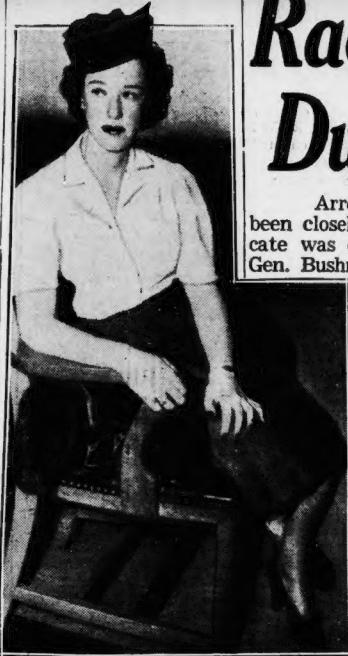

"Whisky caused this . . ." and his voice trailed off into a faint mumble.

The current was turned on at 6:41, and four minutes and 57 seconds later Dr. Cheaten pronounced him dead.

Vice Adm. Wilson On Strategy Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Vice Admiral Russell Wilson has been retired from the post of deputy commander-in-chief of the fleet and been assigned to duty as a member of the joint strategic survey committee, an agency operating under the joint Army-Navy chiefs of staff.

One of the 24 persons arrested in the pool racket roundup. Miss Catherine Cremins, 25, of Roxbury, is being kept under police surveillance since she may be the state's chief witness.

Racket Chief Arrest Due in Hub Roundup

Arrest of a North End racket chieftain who in recent years has been closely associated with the horse betting and numbers pool syndicate was expected momentarily today as a new development in Atty.-Gen. Bushnell's cleanup of illegal gambling.

Police are searching for this "big shot," it was learned, but detectives familiar with his methods frankly said he is more likely simply to "appear" of his own accord, when he has made full preparations to give himself up.

Investigators made clear that this man is not the erstwhile financial partner of Dr. Harry "Doc" Jasper, Sagansky, but another member of the New England gambling triumvirate.

Sagansky, "brains" of the syndicate, was arrested in the State Police raids Tuesday and is now out in $15,000 bail. His partner, who left town before the raids and who is said to have served as a front for the syndicate in operating legitimate businesses soaking up the pool profits, was last reported on his way to Mexico.

STRONG-ARM MAN

This third figure, on the other hand, was described as the syndicate's strong-arm man, feared by

CROSS-QUIZ OF GIRL IN FLYNN CASE ENDS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (INS)—Blonde Lynne Boyer, another guest at the Bel-Air party at which 17-year-old Betty Hansen charged she was attacked by Errol Flynn, took the witness stand today at the film star's trial in superior court.

Miss Boyer was called after Chief Defense Counsel Jerry Giesler completed a cross-examination which had Miss Hansen stammering and blushing.

Giesler clashed with the prosecution when he asked Miss Hansen whether she had not admitted acts before the grand jury for which she might be prosecuted.

ROPE ROUND HER NECK?

When the state objected, Giesler declared:

"I want to show whether she's testifying with a rope around her neck."

Judge Leslie E. Still ruled the questioning was permissible.

"Do you understand the acts you committed are a crime?" Giesler asked Miss Hansen.

"I do," she said in a low voice. "You hope not to be prosecuted by the District Attorney."

"I hope not."

Giesler resumed his cross-examination today after yesterday's session when Betty admitted she had "no objections" when Flynn removed her slacks and undies prior to his alleged attack last September in the home of Fred McEvoy, wealthy British sportsman.

GIRL'S DETAILS OF ACTS

The Nebraska schoolgirl, who came to Hollywood in search of a movie career, made this admission from the witness stand during the second day of testimony in Flynn's trial on charges of attacks on Betty and Peggy LaRue Satterlee, both of teen age.

Betty took the stand after preliminary details told by her sister, Mrs. Patricia Marsden, as to her age and the time she ran away from her sister's home and "went on the loose" in Hollywood.

Under cross-examination by Giesler, she testified:

Q—What did he do when he came into the den, as you call it? A—He told me he was going to take me upstairs and lie me down.

Q—Well, what did you do? A—We went upstairs.

Q—Then what did you do? A—We went into a little bedroom off the big bedroom where there were twin beds. He sat me down on the bed and told me that he was going to put me to bed. I said I didn't want to go to bed and that I wanted to go down and associate with the others. Then he said:

"You don't really think I'm going to let you go downstairs, do you?"

Q—What did you have on? A—I had on slacks, a blouse, a brassiere and teddies. He took off everything but my shoes and stockings. Then he took of his clothes, all but his shoes.

Q—You say Flynn pulled down the underworld. He amassed a fortune as the boss who kept racketeers from other parts of the country out of the syndicate's New England domain.

In contrast with his turbulent career and hard-boiled "sporting" associates, the sought man maintains a home in one of Boston's select residential suburbs and a country estate of more than 40 acres. Police were known to be keeping a constant watch on the house.

10-TON TRUCK RAMS HOUSE

Slipping its brakes while parked in Edwards st., Medford, a 10-ton truck today rolled down the steep incline, sped across Hicks ave., and crashed into the home of Angelo Mechionna.

Mechionna was hurled to the floor by the force. His wife and Mrs. Charles Theresa, resident of the second floor and owner of the property, became hysterical and required aid of a physician.

Michael J. Sullivan of Overland rd., Weymouth, truck driver, told police he was delivering furniture in Edwards st. when the truck rolled away.

In its dash the truck splintered a picket fence and shoved the wall of the Theresa property back a foot before it came to a stop wedged between the first and second floor piazzas.

Hangs Himself On Way to Jail

Michael Landy, 50, of K st. pl., South Boston, committed suicide by hanging today while awaiting transportation to Deer Island to which he had been sentenced for two months.

Landy was arrested New Year's Eve on a charge of intoxication and tried to hang himself in his cell at the South Boston police station. He was sent to City Hospital where he recovered.

Given a two-month sentence in court today he took his life in the detention cell at the pier.

HOUSEWIVES' SURVEY TO FIX FOOD RATION POINT VALUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Five to 10,000 American housewives will be enlisted in a couple of weeks to help the government run food rationing according to the facts of actual housekeeping.

They will be selected, on a voluntary basis, by regular census-takers so they will represent a cross-section of American housewives, according to regions, races, income levels, urban and rural status.

Their job will be to tell OPA—through the census bureau—what kinds of food—especially canned, dried or frozen—the people are eating.

Kenneth E. Stauffer, chief of OPA's processed foods section, explained when rationing comes, some time in the next two months, the government will have to evaluate each kind of canned, dried or frozen fruit or canned vegetable by "points"—say 8 points for a certain size can of peas. These values really will be similar to money prices.

MUST BUDGET FOODS

Just as a housewife might buy a certain can of peas liberally when priced at 15 cents each, and less liberally at 18 cents, so she is expected to select her foods, to some extent, according to whether they are "cheap" or "expensive" in ration points.

She will have only a flat number of ration points to spend each month, according to the size of her family, and will have to budget accordingly. The actual values of items or total rations have not been determined yet.

OPA wondered for a long time how to find out whether, for instance, 8 points is too much or too little for a can of peas. The answer, Stauffer said, was to ask the housewife, and that's what's going to be done.

CENSUS TO BE TAKEN

The housewives who agree to do it will fill out a simple form each day itemizing their food purchases, turn in the sheets every month to a census taker, and OPA will thus learn what family preferences of each food are at prevailing "point values."

If the reports show, for instance, an unusually large quantity of peas is being bought, the point value of peas will be increased to keep housewives from stripping grocery shelves of that item.

If the reports show no one is buying peas, the point value will be reduced to encourage normal buying.

The forms have already been tested on housewives in Baltimore, Md.; Providence, R. I., and Greenville, S. C.

New Price Ceilings On Food in Effect

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Simplified retail price ceilings were in effect today on poultry, butter, cheese, fresh citrus fruits and bananas. The new ceilings prescribed fixed margins over the retailer's net cost and replaced price curbs based on peak prices in specified base periods, generally March, 1942.

Unlike the old ceilings based on the individual store's top prices during the base period, the uniform retail margins vary only for the five different classes of merchandise.

UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS URGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (INS)—The National Catholic Welfare Conference in a formal statement urged uniformity in American divorce laws "in the interest of the country's welfare."

Issued by the Rev. Edgar Schmiedeler, O. S. B., director of the NCWC's family life bureau, it was the first official Catholic repudiation from the recent Supreme Court decision upholding the validity of Nevada's divorces. This decision, the statement declared, will encourage "a trend in the direction of lax standards in state divorce laws."

"It would seem inconceivable," it continued, "that the American people will let matters go on as they have been going, or even go to greater lengths as a result of the decision. The 1937 estimate for divorces in the United States was 250,000—a quarter of a million in one year."

"The figure is probably even higher now because of the disturbed war conditions and the many hurried marriages that have taken place the past two years."

Having worked in the Pullman Co. shops in 1917, Mrs. Pietraszek is more or less an old hand. "I had another job, but I quit to get on the railroad," she said, pushing back wisps of her graying hair. "This is a fine job, makes you eat, makes you sleep."

AUSSIE TROOPS RAID BASES IN NEW GUINEA

By VERN HAUGLAND
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 15 (AP)—Australian troops raided Mubo—Japanese defense outpost for their important base at Salamaua—killing more than 100 of the enemy as Allied forces more than 200 miles to the southeast intensified pressure on the Sanananda pocket and forced the Japanese to attempt an escape toward Cona.

The Japanese occupied Mubo, 10 miles from Salamaua, Sept. 1, Jan. 11, Australian forces raided a village in the valley from five different ridge-top positions simultaneously.

The Japs fought strongly on three ridges, but gave way before the mortar and heavy machine-gun fire.

Fighting continued the next two days, Jan. 12 and 13. The Japs then sent reinforcements. A raiding party shelled these reinforcements but they got through, and the Aussies retired early today.

The raid resembling a hit-and-run operation, was termed highly successful. A novel feature of the Mubo defense were strings of tin cans hanging from wires. The invading party took care, however, not to rattle the cans.

At Sanarinda, Australian troops pressing up the road from the south made progress, as did the Americans and Aussies on their left flank.

Yesterday's air raid on Japanese-held Lae was 95 per cent effective, reported Lieut. Art Small of Durant, Okla., leader of a formation of B-25 Billy Mitchell medium bombers that participated in the attack.

BRITISH SUBS K. O. 6 SHIPS

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—British submarines ranging the Mediterranean have destroyed three more Axis supply ships, probably sunk three others and have again brought the sea war to Italy's doorstep by shelling targets on the southern Italian coast, the admiralty announced today.

After torpedoing a large enemy supply ship near Naples and leaving it sinking, one British submarine surfaced to bombard a railway bridge and demolish electric installations, the admiralty said.

"Considerable structural damage" to the bridge was reported.

Pipeline Fight Pressed As Oil Crisis Solution

New efforts were pressed in Washington today for speedy and permanent solution of New England's fuel oil problems, chiefly through construction of another pipeline from Texas to the East Coast.

Thus, despite the terse statement of Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies, meeting with the New England governors here, that "we cannot hold out any encouragement" in the immediate crisis, there were signs in Washington that the situation can be vastly improved in a matter of months.

Now on file in the national House of Representatives is a Cong James M. Curley, calling for an immediate start on a new 24-inch metal pipeline which would parallel the 15-inch line now under construction from Texas to New York.

Chairman Nelson of the WPB said his board will take up the question of building such a line at its regular meeting next Tuesday.

WALSH MAKES REPORT

Already, Nelson said, the WPB requirements committee has been working on the problem to find out whether the necessary materials could be made available for the second pipeline.

Sen. Walsh, chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee, meanwhile gave the Senate a report on the progress of the 15-inch line now being built.

He said the first section of the main pipeline, from Longview,

Men Can Outbite Women and False Teeth Bite Hardest

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Men can outbite women, two to one.

Authority for this statement is Dr. Ralph Boos of Minneapolis, Minn., here to conduct a clinic at the Florida East Coast Dental Society convention.

Dr. Boos said the average woman exerts from 25 to 30 pounds of biting pressure, a man from 60 to 85 pounds.

That, however, applies only to natural teeth. When false teeth are involved, all rules are off.

"Persons wearing dentures," Dr. Boos said, may exert biting pressure varying from nine to 130 pounds."

Tex., to southern Illinois, is practically completed and should be in operation by Feb. 1. All the pipe is laid and only pumping facilities are holding up actual operation.

MORE OIL ON WAY

The only hope for relief in the immediate plight of New England, where kerosene and heavy, bunker oil supplies are again reported dangerously low, was the disclosure by Deputy Oil Administrator Davies that 200,000 drums of kerosene are already en route here by box car from Texas.

Gov. Saltonstall emphasized that increasing signs of a coal shortage, due to the strike of anthracite miners in Pennsylvania, make the outlook all the more distressing.

PUBLIC QU. O. P. M.
FOR FLYNN IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee unanimously ordered public hearings today, beginning next week, on protests against President Roosevelt's nomination of Edward J. Flynn, retiring Democratic national chairman, to be minister to Australia.

Chairman Connally (D.) of Texas said he would confer with Flynn, and "other interested parties" to determine a convenient time for the opening of the hearing, which will be conducted by the full 23-member committee. He said the hearings probably would start Wednesday or Thursday.

Flynn must be in Chicago Monday to attend a meeting of the Democratic national committee to submit his resignation as chairman.

Connally told reporters the committee would limit its investigation to charges that could be substantiated by direct testimony of witnesses, barring any hearsay charges against the appointee.

Sen. Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire has been especially critical of Flynn, saying his record made him unfit for the important assignment.

FLYNN WELCOMES PROBE

Bridges said he would submit a list of 31 witnesses, including Flynn, who he suggested should be called to testify.

Flynn, 51-year-old New Yorker who handled President Roosevelt's third term campaign, has labeled Bridge's charges as "purely political" and said he welcomed a complete investigation.

Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, a committee member, said he had made the motion for public hearings after a discussion of the appointment and that it had been adopted without dissent.

In a statement of the committee policy, Connally said:

"We will go into the general matter of the qualifications of Mr. Flynn and any other related matter touching on the appointment. We will investigate any specific charges that anyone files, reserving the right to decide what charges will be heard and what evidence will be admitted."

DEFENDED BY GUFFEY

Bridges, who appeared before the committee in closed session, said he repeated charges he had made in the Senate yesterday. He said it appeared to be the consensus of the committee no hearings will be held until Flynn could be present with counsel.

"There was some talk among committee members about getting President Roosevelt to withdraw the appointment, but it didn't get anywhere," Bridges told reporters.

He said Sen. Guffey (D.) of Pennsylvania appeared to be the only member vigorous in defense of Flynn.

12 BIG POST-WAR BOOM SEEN BY U. S. CHAMBER DIRECTOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—A big period of post-war business prosperity, with employment for more persons in the U. S. than ever before, was forecast today by William J. Moll, field director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, before members of the Market Research Council.

Moll said studies compiled by the Chamber indicated 2,590,000 U. S. citizens would want to buy that many automobiles directly after the war.

Moll said 1,715,000 persons intended to buy refrigerators, and another 1,260,000 planned to buy washing machines. Millions of others plan to purchase radios, sewing machines, furniture, stoves and other products.

He said it was significant that 1,015,000 families expected to buy or build new homes immediately after the war at prices ranging from $3000 to $10,000, representing a total expenditure of five billion dollars.

Moll said American productive capacity would be equal to the huge post-war demands, equipped with the largest plant capacity in history, the largest supply of natural and synthetic materials ever available, and the largest number of skilled workmen prepared to man the factories.

Driving Ban Stays; Only East to Be Hit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—An Office of Price Administration spokesman said today the agency saw no possibility of relaxing the east coast ban on pleasure driving, even for farmers and suburbanites.

Three government agencies agree, however, the prohibition should not be extended to other parts of the country—the OPA, the Office of Petroleum Administration and the Office of Rubber Director William M. Jeffers.

The negative decision on relaxing the ban was voiced following suggestions that rural residents were affected unfairly, and should not be cut off from normal recreation which still remained available to city dwellers who could use public transportation.

WHEELER PROBES SHIPMENT OF TIRES TO SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Sen. Wheeler (D.) of Montana made an unsuccessful attempt to learn from a government witness today the identity of what he called "the master mind" behind shipment of tires to South America from dwindling United States stocks.

The witness, Bruce Brown, assistant deputy petroleum administrator, replied the question would have to be referred to the War Production Board or some other agency.

Acting chairman of an agriculture subcommittee inquiring into the synthetic rubber program, Wheeler told the witness "that all we know in the Senate about what you bureaucrats are doing is what we read in the newspapers."

"I can't understand why we are shipping tires to five South American countries in view of our desperate shortage of rubber," Wheeler declared. "I don't know who in the name of God the master mind behind that strategy was."

Wheeler later told reporters the Board of Economic Warfare had approved the shipment, apparently as an advance payment on hopes for obtaining natural rubber from South America.

Senate Group O. K's Brown

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Senate banking committee today quickly and unanimously approved President Roosevelt's nomination of former Sen. Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan as price administrator.

Committee attaches said the members voted approval of their former colleague "almost before they got their hats off."

Chairman Wagner (D.) of New York told reporters before the meeting no protests against the nomination had been received.

Mrs. Jesse Crawford, Famed Organist, Dies

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (INS)—Mrs. Jesse Crawford, 43, half of the famous organist team, died today at her home after an illness of four days.

With her husband she had appeared in theaters throughout America. Both began their parallel careers when they were children, playing the pianos in the first movie houses.

Mrs. Crawford was the author of many songs, the most popular of which was "So Blue."

She was 22 and playing chiefly "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" in a Chicago theater when she met her husband, playing the same song in nearby theater. They married the same year.

Her husband and a daughter, Jessie, 17, survive.

BIG POST-WAR BOOM SEEN BY U. S. CHAMBER DIRECTOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—A long period of post-war business prosperity, with employment for more persons in the U. S. than ever before, was forecast today by William J. Moll, field director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, before members of the Market Research Council.

Moll said studies compiled by the Chamber indicated 2,590,000 U. S. citizens would want to buy that many automobiles directly after the war.

Moll said 1,715,000 persons intended to buy refrigerators, and another 1,260,000 planned to buy washing machines. Millions of others plan to purchase radios, sewing machines, furniture, stoves and other products.

He said it was significant that 1,015,000 families expected to buy or build new homes immediately after the war at prices ranging from $3000 to $10,000, representing a total expenditure of five billion dollars.

Moll said American productive capacity would be equal to the huge post-war demands, equipped with the largest plant capacity in history, the largest supply of natural and synthetic materials ever available, and the largest number of skilled workmen prepared to man the factories.

Driving Ban Stays; Only East to Be Hit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—An Office of Price Administration spokesman said today the agency saw no possibility of relaxing the east coast ban on pleasure driving, even for farmers and suburbanites.

Three government agencies agree, however, the prohibition should not be extended to other parts of the country—the OPA, the Office of Petroleum Administration and the Office of Rubber Director William M. Jeffers.

The negative decision on relaxing the ban was voiced following suggestions that rural residents were affected unfairly, and should not be cut off from normal recreation which still remained available to city dwellers who could use public transportation.

WHEELER PROBES SHIPMENT OF TIRES TO SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Sen. Wheeler (D.) of Montana made an unsuccessful attempt to learn from a government witness today the identity of what he called "the master mind" behind shipment of tires to South America from dwindling United States stocks.

The witness, Bruce Brown, assistant deputy petroleum administrator, replied the question would have to be referred to the War Production Board or some other agency.

Acting chairman of an agriculture subcommittee inquiring into the synthetic rubber program, Wheeler told the witness "that we know in the Senate about what you bureaucrats are doing what we read in the newspapers."

"I can't understand why we are shipping tires to five South American countries in view of our desperate shortage of rubber," Wheeler declared. "I don't know who in the name of God the master mind behind that strategy was."

Wheeler later told reporters the Board of Economic Warfare had approved the shipment, apparently as an advance payment on hopes for obtaining natural rubber from South America.

Senate Group O. K.'s Brown

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Senate banking committee today quickly and unanimously approved President Roosevelt's nomination of former Sen. Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan as price administrator.

Committee attaches said the members voted approval of their former colleague "almost before they got their hats off."

Chairman Wagner (D.) of New York told reporters before the meeting no protests against the nomination had been received.

Mrs. Jesse Crawford, Famed Organist, Dies

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (INS)—Mrs. Jesse Crawford, 43, half of the famous organist team, died today at her home after an illness of four days.

With her husband she had appeared in theaters throughout America. "Both began their parallel careers when they were children, playing the pianos in the first movie houses."

Mrs. Crawford was the author of many songs, the most popular of which was "So Blue."

She was 22 and playing chiefly "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" in a Chicago theater when she met her husband, playing the same song in nearby theater. They married the same year.

Her husband and a daughter, Jessie, 17, survive.

U. S. Has Secret Land Combat Vehicle

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 15 (INS)—A new type land combat vehicle is being manufactured by the Fisher tank plants in Flint and Grand Blanc, Mich., it was disclosed today.

The announcement came from Brig.-Gen. A. B. Quinton, Jr., chief of the Detroit ordnance district, who presented Army-Navy awards to each of the plants for work on the all-welded medium M-4 tanks.

The new weapon is a military secret.

Assassin's Bullets Miss Maj. Glubb

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (INS)—In a dispatch from Ankara, the German radio alleged today a new attempt has been made on the life of Maj. John Glubb, picturesque British commander of the Arab legion in Transjordan and sometimes referred to as a modern "Lawrence of Arabia."

Five shots were fired at Glubb's car while he was en route to Amman, the broadcast said. Glubb escaped injury but one of his aides was wounded.

ERROL FLYNN LEAVES CROWDED COURTROOM
Actor Besieged by Women Seeking Autographs

Flynn Aides Hammer At Girl's Attack Story

your slacks. Didn't you want him to take them off? A—No, I had no objection.

Q—Didn't you help him remove your—underclothes? A—No.

Q—Didn't he tear them? A—No. Then what happened? A—Then we were intimate.

At Betty answered this question she turned and looked for a full second straight into Flynn's eyes. It appeared to be a defiant stare and he looked back at her. Son of the woman jurors smiled at the interchange of glances.

Then what did you do? A—He said I had better go into the bathroom. And then I went in the bathroom and got dressed. He came to the bathroom door in his shorts and then he came in and put his hand on his hair and asked me if I ever used it and I said no. He continued the story in detail.

Then we talked a little and he asked me where I lived and wrote down my address on a piece of paper and stuck it in his pocket. I asked him if he had ever been married and he said yes, but that he was getting a divorce, and I asked him why and he said he didn't want to be tied down.

Deputy District Attorney Cochran rebuked Betty for looking at Flynn all the time. After this she directed glances toward the jury, but obviously with effort, because her glances kept returning toward Flynn.

Only occasionally did she raise her voice when, during the cross-examination, she found herself in difficulty explaining apparent contradictions with her testimony at Flynn's preliminary hearing and before a county grand jury.

During cross-examination, Cochran questioning her about a farewell embrace she said Flynn gave her when he left the party before her departure.

"It was 'just a good-bye kiss,' she testified.

"Just a smooch?" Gavel-jerk asked. "Not a lingering kiss?"

Prosecutor Cochran, interjected. "Just what is a lingering kiss?"

"A man with gray hair like you asking such a question?" Supreme Court Judge Leslie E. Still commented smilingly. Then, as the courtroom burst into laughter, he started to explain judicially.

"Well, a lingering kiss—," waving his hands in apparent loss of words. The rest of his explanation was drowned in laughter.

The witness finally declared Flynn had "held her tightly," and added: "It was a lingering kiss, Oh, yes."

The prosecution objected violently to defense efforts to question Betty on her movements between the time she left the home of her sister after an argument Sept. 14 and the night she met Flynn.

Mrs. "MAY" But the judge overruled the objections and Betty revealed that on a Hollywood street, a man named "Sammy" accosted her, took her to a hotel, paid a week's rent and twice gave her money for food.

At the close of the session Miss Hammer was led weeping to juvenile hall, where she has been held since shortly after the day of the party.

Flynn is charged also with two counts of attack involving Peggy La Rue Satterlee, 30-year-old Hollywood entertainer, who accuses him of attacking her twice Aug. 3, 1941, during a weekend cruise on his yacht Sirocco.

WIFE'S STORY VOIDS BRIDAL

Edward Clark's tangled marital affairs stretching from Cardiff, Wales, to Dorchester, and thence into the unknown, were outlined in Suffolk Probate court today by Mrs. Mary Clark of Park St., Dorchester, in winning an annulment.

She told Judge Frederick J. Dillon she had known Clark for two years before their marriage in November 1940. She testified he told her he had never married.

In August, 1941, she said, he took her belongings and left home. She learned, she testified, that five days later he married again.

Clark had been jailed in 1936 for illegal marriage to Adelaide L. Albergo when it was found that he had a wife and two children in Cardiff. The petition aimed in sequence.

Clark married Pretoria Clark. The couple were divorced and he married Elizabeth Nichols. Pretoria had divorced from Pretoria, he had a child by Elizabeth.

Elizabeth was granted an annulment of her marriage to Clark. Judge Dillon immediately granted the petition.

Marines Promote Laurence Stallings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Maj. Laurence T. Stallings, author and playwright, has been promoted to lieutenant-colonel on the retired list of the Marine Corps, with rank dating from Oct. 30.

The Marine Corps said Stallings was now on duty with the Army Air Forces here, having been recalled to active service in April of last year.

He won the Cross de Guerre with bronze star and a citation from the Second American Division in France during the first World War for heroism in an action in which he was wounded.

He was retired in June, 1920, because of wounds.

Stallings, 48, is a native of Macon, Ga., and has been identified with the Marine Corps since 1917, when he joined as a second lieutenant.

Possibly his best known work is the play "What Price Glory?" which he wrote in collaboration with Maxwell Anderson.

Monday, Jan. 18, Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5; Tuesday, Jan. 19, Wards 6, 7, 8, 9, 10; Wednesday, Jan. 20, Wards 11, 12, 13, 14; Thursday, Jan. 21, Wards 15, 16, 17, 18; Friday, Jan. 22, Wards 19, 20, 21, 22.

ROSE PONZI GROVE WITNESS IN STOKES SIFT; BRIEFS FILED

For several hours today, Rose (Ponzi) Gnecco was questioned at State Police headquarters in connection with the Coconut Grove holocaust which has resulted in indictments against 10 men.

The former wife of Charles Ponzi, Boston "financial wizard," and bookkeeper at the Grove from the days when it was owned by the slain Charles (King) Solomon, was questioned by Acting State Public Safety Commr. John F. Stokes and State Detective-Lieut. John Dempsey.

Meanwhile Atty.-Gen. Robert T. Bushnell filed briefs in superior court, setting forth the law upholding legality of the wording of conspiracy indictments returned in connection with the disaster.

Judge Donahue said he would study the briefs during the weekend. Decisions on the motions filed by six of the ten defendants are expected to be handed down Monday.

Today, for Fire Lieut. Frank J. Linney, charged with wilful neglect of duty and accessory after the fact to manslaughter, Atty. Henry M. Leen filed with the court a motion for a bill of particulars.

In connection with the neglect charge, Leen asked the dates when Linney allegedly was wilfully neglectful of his duties, what the conditions were contrary to the fire marshal's regulations; what the government charges was a fire menace or hazard; what additional exits from the Grove, if any, were needed, and in what respect Linney neglected or refused to "pay particular attention to the safety of means of exit provided."

In connection with the accessory charge, concerning the Welansky brothers and Goldfine, counsel for Linney asked the government to state the acts by which Linney contributed to "the harboring, concealing, maintaining and assisting" of the Welanskys and Goldfine, and in what manner Linney, as alleged, knew the Welanskys and Goldfine had committed the felony.

Others who have filed motions are James H. Mooney, city building commissioner; James Welansky, in charge of the night club on the night of the fire; Jacob Goldfine, club steward; David Gilbert, contractor's helper; Samuel Rudnick, contractor, and Theodore F. Eldracher, city building inspector.

18 LITVINOV PRAISES FUND FOR AID TO SOVIET SOLDIERS, CIVILIANS

Russia, one of the ten United Nations which benefits from the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign, asserts that relief supplies from America have contributed greatly to military successes of the Red Army, Maxim Litvinov, Soviet ambassador, has notified Charles C. Cabot, Fund general chairman here.

"It is hardly possible to put into words the gratitude to America felt by wounded Red army men receiving anesthetics during surgical operations," the Russian ambassador said in a report on Russian War Relief.

"Thanks to other medicants from this country others have received alleviation for pain or a cure for their ills. And many Russians have kept themselves warm in American clothes on the field of battle and in the trenches during freezing winter days and nights."

The Litvinov statement was made public by Greater Boston United War Fund headquarters as volunteer workers spurred their efforts for opening of the general campaign here on Jan. 21.

The following additional subscriptions of $500 and more from individuals were announced by the Fund's special gifts committee:

CIO WAR WORKERS APPEAL FOR MORE MEAT ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 (AP)—A CIO union official appealed to Claude Wickard, food administrator, to act promptly to increase California's supply of meat because lack of it has become "a dangerous threat to continued and efficient war production."

"Workers needing the sustaining food are taking days off from war production to scour markets for meat which cannot be found," Mervyn Rathborne, CIO council secretary, telegraphed Wickard last night.

"At the same time luxury trade in fancy hotels and restaurants continues to be favored with meat. Black market trading in meat is reported."

"The California CIO council urges you use your emergency powers to compel immediate allocation of all available meat supplies to channels which will reach war production workers."

Meanwhile, at Seattle, J. S. Hofmann, president of the Washington Federation of Butchers, said 10 per cent of the meat consumed in that state was being sold through a black market.

He asked for an investigation by the Senate's Truman committee.

A substantial amount of livestock is being killed on Washington farms without government supervision and is being purchased by certain restaurants and hotels, as well as by some meat retailers, Hofmann asserted. Skilled packinghouse workers are taking their killing tools into farm areas during off-hours, or on days off, and slaughtering animals for farmers, he said.

MARCH 15 TAX FILING NOT OFF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (INS) —Sen. George (D.) of Georgia, and Rep. Doughton (D.) of North Carolina, chairmen of the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means Committees, respectively, today warned that no legislation was contemplated which would relieve the American taxpayer from his obligation of filing a 1942 return as usual on March 15.

A statement by them said: "The committee having to do with tax legislation have been advised that reports are coming from over the country to the effect that a change will be made in the tax law which would preclude the necessity of filing 1942 returns due on March 15, 1943.

"This assumption on the part of any taxpayer that he will not be required to file his 1942 return on March 15, 1943, is erroneous. In all cases, that return will have to be filed and at least the first quarter payment will have to be paid.

"Those filing early returns will be in no danger of being penalized. Whatever decision may be made as to future tax legislation will not affect the taxpayers' obligation to file his 1942 return as usual and pay his tax."

Wendell Murray's Son Collapses

Wendell R. Murray, 38, of Massachusetts ave., Lincoln, son of Wendell P. Murray, noted Boston attorney, collapsed today in the clerk's office at East Boston court and collapsed again in the office of Dr. Edison Brown of Beachmont, where he was taken.

After the physician had treated him, Murray was driven to the home of his mother in Beachmont.

According to police, Murray was in court with Patrolman Edward Guiliotti of East Boston station, seeking an assault complaint against a tire dealer, who also sought an assault complaint against Murray.

Police said the case grew out of a dispute the two men had over a tire deal. Neither complaint was issued, however.

EXPERTS SAY N. E. WILL GET MORE 'QUAKES, NONE SEVERE

New England may soon feel more earthquake shocks, Dr. L. Don Leet of Harvard University's seismograph station declared today, but he hastened to explain they probably will be no greater in severity than the trembling which thousands of inhabitants noticed around 5:30 last night.

Two separate earthquakes, both described by experts as "moderately strong," occurred a few seconds apart and shook the land and the buildings throughout New England.

Dr. Leet and the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College, agreed that the tremors were the sharpest since

J. Ahern, S. J., a series of 'quakes were caused by underground earth slides in the White Mountains in the winter of 1940-41.

As was the case then, Dr. Leet said, New England inhabitants can expect a number of seismic disturbances in the next month or so, "set off" by last night's two shocks.

The first and stronger 'quake was recorded at 5:33 p. m. by the Weston College seismograph. Center of the shock was off Cape Ann, near Gloucester.

A few seconds later the second vibration came. This, according to the experts, was centered in the vicinity of Ossipee, N. H., where for the past 25 years considerable underground "slipping" and movement has been detected.

Neither 'quake caused any damage, but from northern Maine to Rhode Island police and newspaper offices were deluged with calls from persons who felt the shaking, heard their windows rattle, saw buildings sway or noticed similar results of the vast vibration.

Idaho Divorce For Beecham

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 15 (AP)—Sir Thomas Beecham, conductor of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra and former conductor of the London Philharmonic Orchestra, today had a divorce from Lady Ulica Celestia Beecham on grounds of extreme cruelty.

The decree was granted by Dist. Judge Charles F. Koelsch after the arrival of depositions in the case taken in London.

Sir Thomas, heir to a London patent medicine fortune, said he had contributed to her and their two sons, both now grown, "something like $1,250,000" in 1932 on the condition there be no further litigation, and in 1937 gave another, $300,000.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP)—"He socked me in the eye. A guest went out and bought three beefsteaks to put over my eye," Mrs. Floyd Bowden testified in obtaining a divorce.

"Did you say beefsteaks?" inquired Judge M. C. Delmutolo.

"Yes, beefsteaks."

That, the court observed, with steaks as scarce as they now are, is extreme cruelty.

First Lady To Christen New Yorktown

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 15 (AP)—Some seven years after she christened the first aircraft carrier to bear the name Yorktown, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will return here next Thursday to sponsor a namesake for the gallant ship sunk in the battle of Midway.

Built at the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co. plant, as was the last ship of the name, the new Yorktown will be launched at ceremonies closed to the public.

The keel of the new carrier was laid on Dec. 1, 1941. She was slated to carry the name Bon Homme Richard, but after the loss of the Yorktown, Navy Secretary Knox yielded to public sentiment and gave her the same name.

Named for the battle in October, 1781, which proved to be the decisive conflict of the Revolutionary war, the new carrier will be the fourth to carry the name of the little Virginia town.

SEX SLAYER KILLS MOTHER, DAUGHTER, EATS WITH BODIES

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 15 (AP)—The savagely hacked bodies of a mother and daughter were found on their blood-soaked bed—victims of a sex slayer who criminally attacked them, then prepared a breakfast of eggs and toast and sat on the bed beside the bodies of his victims to eat it.

The slain women are Mrs. Luzzla Stewart, 50 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Georgia Green, 31. Their bodies, clad in brightly colored pajamas which had been ripped to shreds, were found last night by Mrs. Green's employers, who went to the apartment to inquire about her absence from work.

It was the second murder in the neighborhood to follow the same pattern.

Mrs. Helen Brown, 20-year-old expectant mother who lived five blocks from Mrs. Stewart's apartment, was beaten to death in bed last July by an intruder who stayed to cook his breakfast. The case has not been solved.

Police Chief George Plaine pieced together this account of the Stewart-Green killings from an examination of the apartment:

An intruder forced his way in through a window and battered the women's heads with an axe or a hatchet. Then he ripped open their pajamas and attacked them, leaving their bodies sprawled grotesquely across the bed.

Afterward, the killer ransacked the apartment leaving blood splattered over the bedroom floor and furniture.

Then he prepared a breakfast of eggs and toast and sat down on the bloody bed beside the two dead women to eat it.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Six more members of Dr. Frank Buchman's moral rearmament movement have been refused occupational draft deferments.

The six, including Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, former Davis Cup English tennis star, brought to 25 the number of MRA followers who have been retained in class 1A by Selective Service local board 17.

With three others whose cases will be reviewed Tuesday, they had sought deferment on grounds they were engaged in essential war occupations, claiming they worked to improve the morale of war workers and others.

All those whose cases were reviewed last night gave Washington, D. C., addresses, national headquarters of the movement, which once was located here.

TUNISIA FRENCH NUNS GIVE HOSPITAL TO U. S. SOLDIERS

By HAROLD V. BOYLE

WITH U. S. FORCES IN TUNISIA, Jan. 12 (Delayed) (AP)—White-clad nuns who operate a hospital in a small French town along the central Tunisian front have proved true angels of mercy to many wounded and ill American and British soldiers.

When American medical men approached them for permission to use a room in the hospital for diagnosis and emergency treatment, the nuns responded by turning over the entire first floor. The operating room with black-ed out windows enables the doctors to handle emergency cases at all hours—even when enemy planes fly overhead.

The nuns also provided laundry equipment and a delousing unit. Soldiers journey 15 miles or more to the hospital for hot showers, the rarest of luxuries for a front-line fighter.

In the hospital wards are soldiers injured in accidents, wounded in battle and awaiting transportation back to base hospitals, or suffering from dysentery or pneumonia.

Every morning they are visited by a plump little middle-aged nun. Although she knows no English she passes a word of greeting or joking gesture with each soldier and her smile is a language universal.

Members of the medical unit put in 12 hours a day or more and remain on call at all hours.

The most irrepresible one is Pvt. Ernest C. Kaled of 44 Summer st., Methuen, Mass. Hospital workers must take turns at kitchen police duty but Kaled, a medical technician, was released from all obligations after he began serving tea with a hand syringe.

Other members of the unit include: Sgt. E. T. Duffy, 22 Stearn st., Waltham, Mass.; Staff Sgt. Joseph Carnevale, 526 George st., New Haven, Ct.; Sgt. Moses Somers, 85 Nottingham rd., Brighton, Mass.; Corp. Stephen Jelen, Stafford Springs, Ct., and Pvt. George Perry, Jr., 20 Suffolk st., Worcester, Mass.

It was the raid in which Lieut. Col. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, participated actively.

The sergeant, Lawrence A. Lang, 36, a carpenter at Wheeling, W. Va., before he joined the Marines 13 years ago, was brought to the Navy Hospital last week with a bullet-shattered right elbow.

"We didn't know where we were going when we started in training," Lang explained, "but we knew it was going to be serious business. We were reasonably sure we were going after Japs if we had to sneak up on 'em in submarines."

"That was the only way we could get in because we were right in the heart of Jap territory."

"We landed under cover of darkness just before daybreak. They didn't spot us when we landed, but the fighting started about half an hour later, and it was pretty hot and heavy after that. It was all very close range stuff. The range averaged from 30 to 100 yards."

"There wasn't much hand-to-hand fighting. You usually shoot the other fellow or he shoots you before you get that close. Tanks and planes are all right out in the open, but it's just rifles and machine guns that count in the jungle."

Lang said he was taken off the island, one of the Gilbert group, about 10 at night, after the Japanese detachment had been wiped out.

He described Col. Roosevelt as "a swell fellow." "A lot of people have said he got his rank because he's the President's son," Lang said, "but he's wry above the average. He's right up in the front line in action."

This is the fifth of a series of six articles written by Former President Herbert Hoover, dealing with the situations on the Axis and United Nations home fronts as they appear today, as they loom in the future, and as they affect global strategy.

By HERBERT HOOVER

THE FIRST principle in organization of the home front distilled by all nations from the last war is that civilian activities must be directed by single-headed responsible administrators.

The second principle is that all functions and authority in respect to a particular activity must be concentrated into the hands of one administrator.

We can no more administer civilian activities in war with committees, boards or commissions than we can direct a battle with a committee. And we can no more have divided authority over one function than we can have independent generals in command of a battle.

Yet it was 19 months after we started large preparedness, before munitions was given a single head; it was over two years before oil, food, rubber and manpower were given single responsible administrators.

There are still important executive functions under committee control, and of the administrators appointed, none of them have full control in their field.

The third principle is that the head administrators of such major groups should comprise a war council sitting directly with the President. Here alone the general economic and civilian policies should be determined, the conflicts and overlaps planned out with the President present as the final umpire.

THERE WAS a war council or a war cabinet in every principal nation in the last war. There is one in every principal nation in this war except in the United States.

There are other principles as to co-operation with the public and the trades, the methods of price-fixing, removal of labor, restraints on production, allocation of supplies, etc., in which hard-won experience has been ignored. That there is delay and confusion and enormous bureaucratic interference needs no proof. It lies all around the landscape.

There are some policies that should be determined at once by a national war council. We have two bottlenecks: one is manpower and the other is ships.

In view of these bottlenecks, certain home front policies suggest themselves for immediate determination. And they need be related to global strategy itself.

For instance, to carry on a war of aggressive attrition we need give full emphasis to fighting planes. They can mostly transport themselves.

We will be short of ships for another year. To transport American armies overseas requires three times the tonnage that is required to arm and support the manpower of our allies. We are endangering the food supply to ourselves and our allies by excessive drafts of manpower from agriculture.

WE MUST ADMIT that so far our spiritual front in this war is not as united as it was in the last war. The weakness today is not complacency or apathy. There is a great deal of bewilderment and confusion of purposes.

This is contributed to by the confusion in administration; by criticism of the divergent ideological purposes of our allies; by the lack of confidence in the news of the war; by tiresome repetition of radio propaganda; by exceeding powers granted by the Congress and by the widespread conviction that the purposes of our Administration are not alone to win the war, but to use the war to change fundamentals of American life without submission to the people or their representatives.

Despite all this, the American people are united upon the defense of America from attack and are grimly determined to defeat the Germans and Japanese.

I believe they are united upon securing lasting peace this time even if they have to use airplanes to garrison it. No enemy need believe because we exercise our blessed right to debate, discuss and differ between ourselves, that we are not united upon his defeat.

On the military front we have magnificently courageous sons. We can have every confidence in our generals and admirals, men and officers alike are performing stupendous deeds. They merit everything we have got.

We have the blessing of huge industrial equipment and managerial initiative created in the mills of private enterprise. It is equipped with skilled workmen and farmers. Failures in administration interpret themselves in delay of the war; in unnecessary hardship on civilians and increased problems after the war. But we will win the war!

Be sure to read the concluding article by the former President in this column tomorrow.

On the Side

By E. V. DURLING

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Age cannot wither, nor custom stale.

Her infinite variety; other women cloy
The appetites they feed; but she makes hungry
Where most she satisfies.
—SHAKESPEARE.

THE general impression is that Cleopatra, referred to in the above lines, was a very beautiful woman. However, the best authorities state she was not really much of a glamour girl as to appearance, but that she had an unusual personality, an outstanding sense of humor and a remarkable understanding of men. How much of an opposite to you is your matrimonial partner? For several centuries many experts on the matter have been claiming that in seeking a mate both men and women are attracted by opposites. Stated Schopenhauer: "The most masculine men seek the most feminine woman; while small and feeble men love large and strong women; people with short noses prefer those with long noses; tall and thin men prefer short and stout women."

ASIDES: Now have a reader named Jeanette Miss. She is married and therefore is often addressed as "Mrs. Miss." All persons of importance in England are given code names by the military authorities. During Eleanor Roosevelt's stay in London her code name was "Rover." Mrs. Roosevelt was anxious to see her son, Elliott, as soon as possible and asked that a call be sent out for him. The military authorities sent out a code message reading "Find Rover's pup." Observed Samuel Smiles: "As daylight can be seen through small holes, so little things will illustrate a person's character." How right Mr. Smiles was. If young men and women knew more about character study and applied this knowledge to those they are thinking of marrying, we would probably have fewer divorces.

PASSING BY: Fred Astaire. Only stage or screen star ever born in Omaha, Neb. His real name is Frederick Austerlitz. How would it look to see on a billboard: "Frederick Austerlitz and

"Some day the lieutenants are gonna catch on. He stands here purposely to salute 'em!"

Rita Hayworth in "You Were Never Lovelier." Take Merle Oberon. Her real name is Queenie O'Brien Thompson. Eddie Cantor's real name is Izzy Itzkowitz. Imagine a billboard reading: "Queenie O'Brien Thompson and Izzy Itzkowitz in 'Broadway After Dark'." Charles Nordhoff. Writer. Co-author with James Norman Hall of "Mutiny on the Bounty." These authors received $30,000 for the film rights of "Mutiny on the Bounty," one of the greatest film money makers of all time. Margaret Mitchell received $50,000 for the rights of "Gone With the Wind." For the film rights of the play, "Life With Father," the price paid is to be $500,000 plus a percentage of the receipts.

GIFTS: How many of your Christmas gifts were things you needed or very much wished to have? I know of a group of 20 friends who have quite an effective system of Christmas gift giving. Each one of the group makes out a list of things he would like to have for Christmas. These lists are sent around to the 19 friends, each of whom in turn crosses one of the things he desires off the list. So there are at least 20 people in the country who received 19 things they wanted for Christmas.

PLEASE NOTE: So Margaret Sullivan is going to retire from the screen. Too bad. She was one of the six best actresses in Hollywood, though I am afraid her unusual talent was not fully appreciated. It cannot be denied that a hair cut improves a man's appearance considerably; makes him look neat, nifty and snappy. I know a fellow who has his own clippers and trims his hair every morning. I also have a reader in Chicago who married a lady barber. Every morning this lucky fellow is given a shave and hair trim by his wife.

SIDELIGHTS: Why is it a satisfactory non-glare automobile headlight has never been developed? Driving at night on a highway, you encounter few cars coming in the opposite direction whose drivers are courteous enough to dim their lights. This means that for 100 feet or more you are driving blind. In 1933, the public was promised that in 1939 there would be on the market a three-wheel automobile selling for $350 that would be capable of going 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline and would have tires guaranteed to last 125,000 miles. Whatever became of that car? How we could use something like that these days.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—So there really is a woman named Polly Wog? Now tell us the truth is there really a man named St. Elmo Bug? A—There is a resident of Beverly Hills, Cal., named St. Elmo Bug. Q—Did you ever do a hard day's work in your life? What was the longest hour week you ever worked regularly? A—Have done many a hard day's work both in offices and at tasks calling for manual labor. The longest work week I can remember having was a 66-hour week as hotel clerk.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: U. S. Coast Guard prefers the German shepherd dog for patrol work. Considering the importance now placed in dogs for military purpose causes you to wonder why the U. S. Army hasn't been breeding canines.

FINDS WOMEN'S EDUCATION
GAINS IN IMPORTANCE

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

(Copyright, 1943, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, THURSDAY—I must say I was fairly sleepy after the day spent in Arthurdale, West Virginia, for we finally returned to Washington in the early hours of Wednesday morning. A good sleep, even if it is short, will do a great deal, and so breakfast found me much interested in an opportunity to talk for a little while with Miss Charlotte Carr.

I had gone up to New York city yesterday to speak at Columbia University at their institute of arts and sciences. Today I am going to New Jersey, where Mrs. Lewis Thompson is meeting me and taking me to the Marlboro Hospital, and then to Fort Monmouth to lunch at the USO Club and to the Monmouth County Social Service annual meeting.

I SHALL DINE informally tonight with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Payne, in the interests of the Young Men's Vocational Foundation of New York. Though there are very few boys who need help now, the problem of the girls coming out of reformatories is becoming a serious one, which this group thinks should not be entirely abandoned at the present time.

It is interesting to me how many people are suddenly awakening to the importance of women's education from a variety of angles. In the course of the last few days, I have received a most absorbing account of Gould Academy in Bethel, Me. Here they are specializing in teaching girls the art of home making in a very practical way.

THE LETTER which accompanies the account of their work, stresses the fact that they are not only teaching them how to cook, to clean, to budget their money and to buy the necessary things; but they include all the interests of home-making, the care of children and the necessary community activities which makes the home maker a real factor in her community.

THEY ENCOURAGE their girls to enter all the war activities of their community—first aid, canteen work, nursing and the various drives to collect aluminum, waste paper, tin and other materials. In the letter giving the account of what they are doing there is a sentence all of us should remember, no matter what our occupations we have in life. It is: "Being an efficient, alert home maker these days is a man-sized job... includes more than a usual observer might think."

I ALSO HAVE a most interesting letter emphasizing the reason why girls who are able to go to college, should go in greater numbers than ever before

Broadway's Voice

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Copyright, 1943, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Do you care that Deanna Durbin's not a real rent he'll feature 60 curls? ... Are Susan Peters of "Random Harvest" and Richard Quire, the film juvenile, sniffing orange blossoms? ... Do you think Tommy Dorsey and his long-time gal, Edythe Wright, will ever set that date? ... Is it true that the Milton Berles are house hunting—they want to purchase an East Side manse? ... Aren't Moss Hart and Paula Lawrence a delicious combination? ... Have you heard that Romo Vincent is on a new diet—only four meals a day? ... Don't you think the Alfred Vanderbilt-Elise Cavanaugh combo looks very cozy? ... Did Lieut. Benjamin Welles, Sumner Welles' son, get that broken foot in a parachute landing?

HERE'S A TALE Lindsay and Crouse might incorporate in some future drama plot, if they're not fed up with the burlesque theme. It concerns a pretty little strip-teaser called Dolly and a society boy named John. John and Dolly met, and fell in love. But, of course, his very Park ave. family objected and, looking at it honestly, Dolly saw their point; so she quit burlesque. She gave up her $200 a week and took an office job at $20 per. But she was happier than she'd ever been. Until, of course, the inevitable happened.

John strolled backstage at a burlesque show (he can't seem to keep away from them) one night, met another strip-teaser and fell madly in love with her blonde hair, her spangles and her "glamour."

He just doesn't care what his family thinks now. He's going to get married without their permission—to the other girl.

But you can't print that. Dolly's friends in burlesque circles think she switched from stripping to typing because she was very intelligent—you wouldn't want to prove to them that she was really very dumb.

SUSAN PETERS

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE UNIVERSAL STUDIO will be an empty lot, come next midweek... Empty of stars, transferred temporarily to Boston... The occasion will be the opening of "Arabian Nights," a sooper-dooper musical film, at the Keith Memorial... Here for a "pre-preview showing," i. e.; a show to be previewed by lucky seat-holders previous to a regular preview of the picture, will be the following: Maria Montez... Sabu (the elephant boy, don't they call him?)... Nigel Bruce, Basil (Sherlock Holmes) Rathbone's radio chum, but a movie artist pre-eminently, and a stage star first of all... Gloria Jean, the teen-ager who thrills arias like an operatic star... Dick Foran (Cowboy lovers and hoo-operas addicts all know Dick)... Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan, a cute pair of youngsters who dance and sing together—as well as act slightly—in pictures... And Elyse Knox... This stellar octette is the most important grouping of important players sent by one studio in the direction of Boston since the war began... Pat O'Brien may be in town at the same time... The great Pat has a commitment to help a war-bond drive function planned for that part of the month... But as Pat has received his priority already for a seat in a Britain-bound bomber late in January, the O'Brien may not have time to keep his Boston date.

SERG. JACK GRANARA, WHOSE job as boss of the Keith press department is being held ably by Henry "Red" King until the end of the "duration," was in town for a day, and the sustan John is wearing was won naturally, and without benefit of mercury light or sunlamp... Jack has been stationed in Hawaii, but as his many friends predicted, he has been selected from the ranks to try for a chance at the shoulder-bar of a second lieutenant... Serg. Granara was on his way today for a Florida officers' training camp... The chances that he will be "washed out" are virtually nil, the energetic Boston press-agent's friends believe.

CONGRESSMAN JAMES M. CURLEY may be named as another important committee, which will be another surprise to those who expressed themselves as "astounded" when the former Governor—a "new member" was made a member of the powerful appropriations committee... The Jamaicaaway citizen's next appointment may be to military or naval affairs. (We are using caution in using "military"—The Washington grapevine stretches to this department has it that the appointment was clinched last week)... Hank Ladd's advice, forwarded from Chicago where the "Priorities" show which did so poorly here is leading the Windy City's legitimate attractions: "You can never tell about a woman. And if you can, don't."

ALLEN JENKINS, whose comeback to the stage got off to a perfect start in Boston in "Something for the Boys," writes that his most unique experience since reaching the Great Dim Way was playing umpire for two lady taxi drivers whose fenders got tangled... Allen's real name, incidentally, is Monahan... The type of "taxi" he really is may be judged from these facts... Allen was a featured player at Warners' before he moved from the five-room flat he and his bride rented in Los Angeles for $35 a month... The couple moved to a more pretentious home in the Hollywood foothills... It was a six-roomer, and had a small garage and a tiny garden and, of course, not even a fish pond, let alone a swimming pool... The Jenkins really splurged when they moved... They bought a hundred dollars worth of new living-room furniture... Let you deduce that Allen and the missus have an inordinate fondness for money, it would be well aware to consider the verdict of the Lamb's Club membership... "Of all the boys who went west to the studios, Allen Jenkins is the most generous—by far," the Lambs say.

THE USUAL CRY is going the rounds about Mike Todd's "luck"... Don't believe it... A man may produce one hit on luck... The second shows that he has what it takes... Todd has it... He has the same "awareness" which featured Sam... He surrounds himself by the best artisans of the theater, chief among them Hassard Short, greatest of the musical comedy and revue stagers... Vinton Freedley, meantime, is kicking himself up and down Broadway... According to Serg. Sam Colt, one of the Barrymore relatives and a close friend of Vinton, Freedley passed up "Something for the Boys"... It may well be true.

FREEDLEY PRODUCED "Let's Face It" the 1941 success by the "Something for the Boys" writing triumvirate, Herb and Dorothy Fields and Cole Porter... But Freedley might have produced "Something for the Boys" and it might well have fallen flat—a failure... The great production, particularly that spectacular full-stage set of gold and blue, with a handsome gold ceiling that has more depth than any ceiling ever shown in the theater, can be credited to Todd and Short... And Freedley perhaps wouldn't have passed out orders for $150 suits to stagehands able to consummate a quick change, from a "bomber scene" to a full-stage set in exactly 15 seconds... $150 suits notwithstanding, they told Todd it was impossible... "What does that mean?" demanded Mike... "Sam Goldwyn says 'impossible' is only two words. Words!... We want action... Let's have it"... Mike got it... New York's first-nighters cheered that lightning change of scenery.

DEANNA DURBIN TAKES LEAVE OF LITTLE GIRL ROLES

By Louella O. Parsons

(Copyright, 1943, by International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 15—Far from being on the verge of a professional divorce, as rumored, Deanna Durbin and her home lot, Universal, are cooing like a couple of love birds since the "sneak" of "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday," Deanna's picture.

In fact, everything is so "lurvely" that U is immediately announcing Deanna's next as "Hers to Hold," and there's more than meets the eye in this tendency toward oomph titles on the Durbin pictures.

In a nutshell, they want to get away from the young girl (or shall I say "Three Smart Girls?") angles about Deanna.

ANN HARDING

"Hers to Hold" will show her as a mature woman, a worker in a defense factory, and while I wouldn't go so far as to say they want to make a sweeter girl of Deanna, they at least want the fans to get used to her as a woman and not a little girl.

Felix Jackson, who worked on so many of the former Durbin hits, is returning to Universal from M-G-M on a long-term producer-writer contract and he will handle "Hers to Hold."

THAT GRACIOUS LADY, Ann Harding, who has made such a remarkable comeback on the screen, will be seen as Teresa Wright's mother in "North Star," the Lillian Hellman Russian epic.

That comes me, Sam Goldwyn is having his troubles casting this picture, for it calls for so many principals and all of them top people. Walter Huston and Charles Bickford are reading the script and the chances are that they will be the next actors to join the troupe.

I heard today that Lewis Milestone, director of this movie, is giving little Buff Chapman, Irvin S. Cobb's granddaughter, her first movie role.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT has written a letter to the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, suggesting that they give two awards instead of one for the best picture of the year—an award for the best drama and the best comedy.

In all the years the Academy has been handing out the Golden Oscars only two comedies, "You Can't Take It With You" and "It Happened One Night," have won. The latter carried all the honors that year and also bestowed the coveted award on Claudette and Clark Gable.

I suppose if they gave two awards, one for the best comedy and the best drama, that would entail requests for best comedy and best dramatic performances also. David Selznick is also campaigning for the best foreign picture, and somebody else wants the outstanding musical of the year. Let's not have too many awards.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Three nights running Hedy Lamarr and John Loder have sat in secluded spots in cafes. Few nights ago they were in a Russian cafe in Hollywood and the night before that at Sardi's, at Sardi's.

Hedy, who in spite of her dazzling beauty has been really a lonesome girl, seems to have fallen hard for the good looking Loder, while he, on the other hand, has been greatly attracted toward the glamorous Hedy.

John's marriage turned out unhappily, and although he and his wife have made a number of futile attempts at a reconciliation because of their little girl they have never seemed to get together.

A LINE OR TWO: Domestic problems (I mean in the kitchen) can't be worrying the Franchot Tones. With everybody else closing up big homes because they can't get help, Franchot and Jean Wallace have stepped out and bought Robert Montgomery's large estate in Bel-Air... Not so long ago a fan, whose husband is serving with the Merchant Marine, called me complaining because the movies weren't glorifying her favorite branch of the service. Well, she can complain no longer. Warners, RKO, Jimmy Cagney and now Republic all announce Merchant Marine stories—but Republic crops up the winner with the title, "The Merchant Marine."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Now it's Linda Darnell for whom George Montgomery is buying lunch—not once but every day; Natalie Draper and Merrill Pye will wed before the end of the month; Col. and Mrs. Darryl Zanuck celebrated their 19th wedding anniversary Tuesday with a dinner for four given by Gregory Ratoff; Jennifer Jones is down with poison oak, of all things; there is no possibility of a reconciliation between Capt. Neal Lang and Martha Raye, even though she did see him when she went overseas to entertain the service men; Lynn Bari is on her way to New York and Washington, where she will attend the President's birthday ball; Anna Lee has been ordered to the desert to get rid of a stubborn case of flu.

TROOPS TO TAKE OVER COAL MINES IF LAST PLEA FAILS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (INS)—The War Labor Board made an 11th-hour attempt today to settle the strike of miners in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania in a desperate hope to prevent use of Army troops to reopen struck mines.

While Congress clamored for drastic action, the labor board called before it John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, the heads of 22 union locals conducting the outlaw strike, and representatives of five major coal companies whose mines have been closed.

Lewis, deeply troubled, carried with him reports showing that only 800 of the 90,000 miners in the anthracite fields were on strike. This was in contrast to unofficial estimates by the labor board that 8,000 were idle.

It was learned that Lewis, as long ago as Jan. 4, appealed to the hard coal miners not to strike in their demands for a $2-a-day wage increase.

At that time, Lewis sent letters to be posted in all union halls in the hard coal fields calling for settlement of the miners' wage demands in "an orderly manner... that victory can be had, not only on the battlefronts of the world, but on the production front of our mines and factories."

Sources close to Lewis denied that the miners were striking in protest over an increase in union dues which amounts to only about 33½ cents a month.

They said that the miners striking were using the protest as a cause for the strike so that they could not be accused of violating the union contract by walking out for wage boosts while a contract was in effect.

While the labor board arranged for meeting, Secretary of Interior Ickes called the strike "highly reprehensible." Asked what could be done if the miners continued to strike, Ickes replied:

"The government could take the mines over."

Such a step would entail use of troops. Congress, meanwhile, was angry over the walkout. The Truman committee investigating the war effort took no action pending the labor board hearing, but individual members of Congress were loud in their denunciation of the dispute.

Soldier, Girl Wed by Radio

UNITED STATES HEADQUARTERS IN WEST ENGLAND, Jan. 15 (INS)—Tech. Sergt. Thomas J. Conlan of Woodhaven, N. Y., spent a lonely honeymoon today following his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Lat of Brooklyn.

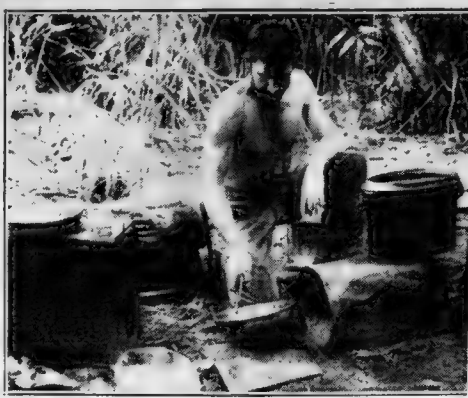

As a matter of fact, Sergt. Conlan didn't even see the bride during the ceremony, which was performed by transatlantic radio-telephone.

The bride and groom could hear each other as they took the marital vows thousands of miles apart, and when the connection was broken they were man and wife.

Austen Lake Talks To Legion Tonight

Members of Wollaston Post 295, A. L., will hear a talk by Austen Lake, feature writer for the Boston Evening American, at their meeting tonight.

Lake is the only American correspondent who made a west to east convoy crossing with permission of the British admiralty. He arrived in England when Germany's air blitz was in full swing.

ON SANANANDA FRONT—Pvt. Louis Sherack, who operated in a Minneapolis restaurant kitchen before the Army called, mixes up some biscuit batter... shortly after the first flour arrived on the Sanananda front in New Guinea. He baked them in a makeshift oven.

Springfield Flier Wins Silver Star

First Lieut. Arthur L. Burger, of Trafton rd., Springfield, has been awarded the silver star decoration for "gallantry in action" against the Japs.

Presentation of the award was made to Burger, along with a number of other Army air force men, by Lieut.-Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, the Associated Press reported today from "Somewhere in Australia."

Lieut. Burger shot down a Zero out of a flight of eight Zeros and 15 Japanese dive bombers which attacked him during a patrol mission over Buna, New Guinea, on Nov. 22.

Florida High Court O. K.'s Negro Jurors

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—An indictment charging an Escambia county Negro with an attack on a white woman was thrown out by the Supreme Court today on grounds Negroes were systematically excluded from the grand jury.

It was the first case in which the question of excluding Negroes from the jury was raised as the main point before the Florida court since federal court rulings the practice violates constitutional rights of Negro defendants. The decision, written by Justice Glenn Terrell, pointed out that the federal court rulings were binding.

Army Tailor First War Fraud Conviction

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15 (AP)—Ferdinand J. Herman of New York, a former superintendent of the Fort Dix repair shop, has been sentenced to two years in a federal penitentiary for defrauding the government in the sale of army overcoats and for accepting bribes.

Special Assistant Attorney General Henry G. O. Donnell said Herman was the first man in the country to be convicted by a jury of war fraud. The government contended he sold as "discarded material" army overcoats sent to the repair shop and that resulting expense to the government was between $20,000 and $30,000.

WILLKIE HITS 'IDOLIZATION'

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 15 (AP)—Decriing the idolization of individual men both in the Allied and Axis countries, Wendell L. Willkie, in a speech at Duke University here, pleaded for the preservation of liberal education in America.

"Everywhere you turn today," he said, "you find people clinging to certain men who have been exalted in the public mind out of all proportion to their talents, however great."

"In Russia, there is Josef Stalin, in China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in Britain, Winston Churchill, in the United States, Franklin Roosevelt."

"The stature of these men is in every case out of the ordinary and they deserve the high positions they have won. And yet, dare we say that any one of them is indispensable? The moment we say that, our world must change."

Willkie said he perceived a connection between the emphasis on single individuals and the neglect of liberal arts. Had Americans more faith in liberal education, he said, they would have more faith in the "great leavening process of democracy which forever pushes new men to the top."

Marine's Gotta Yell, Doesn't He?

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15 (INS)—His brother Nicholas is with the Marines fighting the Japs somewhere in the South Pacific and 20-year-old Ralph D'Angelo wanted to get in a lick or two himself.

But the Marines wouldn't take him because a boyhood fall made it impossible for him to open his mouth real wide.

So today, Ralph made arrangements at a hospital for an operation after the recruiting officer agreed that he would be accepted if the operation was a success.

U. S. OFFENSIVE CHASES AXIS SUBS FROM CARIBBEAN SEA

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Jan. 15 (INS)—Hounded by an American counteroffensive, Axis submarines today have ceased their recent mass assault against strategic Caribbean shipping lanes.

The sinking of Allied ships in this area has been reduced strikingly within the past few weeks.

There was not a single attack by enemy subs during the latter part of December, indicating that the undersea raiders have found their Caribbean campaign too costly to continue.

Commenting on the withdrawal of Axis subs, Rear Admiral J. B. Oldendorf, temporarily in command of the Caribbean sea frontier, said:

"We can not consider the submarine menace completely eliminated yet. It can be said that the subs—for the time being at least—have retired from the Caribbean area. We hope to keep them away."

The Navy, because of security reasons, has not disclosed the number of Axis submarines that have been destroyed.

All the resources available were hurled into the counter measures against the U-boat offensive. American and British destroyers and sub chasers, U. S. naval aircraft and Army planes hammered back at the undersea prowlers. The rate of sinkings immediately began to decline.

In describing and summing up the present situation, Admiral Oldendorf said:

"For the last month, the Caribbean has been relatively free of enemy subs. I think they have transferred their operations to greener fields."

Osteopaths Discuss War's Nerve Effects

War's effects on the nerves of both civilians and servicemen will be discussed in detail at the Massachusetts Osteopathic Society's 40th annual convention Saturday morning at Hotel Kenmore.

Dr. Ernest Marcoux of Newton, society president, and Dr. Nelson D. King of Cambridge, general chairman, will preside.

Argentina Balks At Chile's Offer

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 14 (AP)—The pro-democratic newspapers Critica and Noticias Graficas said today they had learned unofficially but reliably that Argentina had rejected an offer from Chile to delay breaking of diplomatic relations with the Axis until this country is ready to break also.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—A labor union official was sentenced to jail today for refusing to give his organization's records to a federal grand jury and attorneys said appeal of the sentence would provide the first direct U. S. Appellate Court test of such a union's right to immunity.

Judge Albert W. Johnson held Jasper White, of Philadelphia, in contempt and sentenced him to 30 days imprisonment for withholding documents in his possession as assistant business agent of Local 542, AFL International Union of Operating Engineers.

A jury investigating fraud charges in building of the $40,000,000 Naval supply base at nearby Mechanicsburg, cited White yesterday in a presentment charging his "conduct and attitude" in refusing union records was such as to hinder and prevent the investigation. The presentment did not say how the records fit into the picture.

White, who was released in $1000 bail pending appeal to the Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, claimed that turning over his books might incriminate himself and the union. This raised the question of whether an unincorporated union is entitled to same immunity as an individual under the Constitution.

NORTH END RACKET CHIEF SOUGHT IN RING ROUNDUP

It was learned today that for the first time since the sensational Hotel Manger raid, July 29, 1932—birth date of Boston crime syndicates—every syndicate man has been ordered to close and every independent operator has been warned that no good will come if his agents, or bookies, are arrested from now until . . .

WHEN 25 WERE SEIZED

In the Manger raid 25 Boston gangsters were seized in a drive on gambling protection racketeers.

Police broke in while racket men were sitting down with bookmakers and pool promoters in a parley over demands of the racketeers for a share in the gambling profits in return for giving "protection" to the gambling operations.

Neither the syndicate nor the independent layoff rooms were open today, though both layoff headquarters were open until this morning.

When a bookie gets too much money to hold on a certain horse or on a pool number, he turns it over—or lays it off—to an independent operator who can handle it and is willing to chance being hit, or to the syndicate, which likewise is in a better financial position to take big bad news from a better or group of better.

Search today for the gang chief was disclosed shortly after Atty.-Gen. Bushnell created a sensation in Boston police and political circles by requesting a complete report on all efforts to stamp out gambling over the past two years.

He asked for names, of investigating officers and arrested persons, complete descriptions of all raids and places under surveillance, as well as full details on court prosecutions resulting from anti-gambling drives of the Boston police.

TIMILTY CITES DELAY

Claiming that his department has made approximately 1400 arrests during 1941 and 1942 in connection with lotteries, Commr. Timilty told the Evening American today it would "take a long time" to furnish Bushnell with the complete information he desires.

Up to now, the commissioner said, he has not replied to the Bushnell letter, explaining it had not been received until last night.

"But I'm going to get to it right away," he added. "I'll send the information to Mr. Bushnell from time to time. There's a tremendous amount of detail connected with the transmission of this information."

"For instance, take 1942, when the Boston police must have made at least 700 arrests in connection with lotteries. We made about the same number too, in 1941."

WOMAN STAR WITNESS
"Of course, digging all that stuff out will be a prodigious task, but I will get it to Mr. Bushnell as quickly as I can. It will take a long time to get all the information to him because of the large number of cases."

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that Miss Catherine Cremins, 25, of Center st., Roxbury, one of the 24 persons arrested in the State Police roundup, is being kept under police surveillance as a protective measure, since she may be the state's chief witness.

Investigators described her as a bookkeeper familiar with many details of the syndicate's operations and personally acquainted with financial deals undertaken by Sagansky.

An attractive, modishly dressed brunette of refined appearance, she pleaded not guilty to a charge

ROBERT F. BRADFORD

Middlesex District Attorney, OPA Man Talk with Bushnell

of "maintaining a lottery."

Her bail of $100 was the lowest asked when the various defendants were arraigned.

WITHOUT PRECEDENT

Bushnell's demand, carried to Timilty by special messenger, was the second unprecedented step taken by the attorney general in connection with the Boston department in two days.

On the day previous, he sent a letter to all police stations, expressing the opinion that the "rank and file" of the force were honest. Officers in the lower grades were "practically helpless when syndicates take over," he said. In addition, Bushnell had asked that this letter be read at roll call and posted in the stations.

A copy of this letter was included in Bushnell's surprise message to the commissioner, which referred to an announcement by Timilty on Dec. 17 that he had assigned 68 rookie officers to investigate "illegal gambling."

The Attorney-General requested

a complete list of all officers of all ranks "assigned to the work you refer to in the statement quoted above during the years 1941-42 and up to and including the present time." He also wanted a detailed statement as to the results obtained, court prosecutions, the names of defendants and all other particulars.

As a preliminary move in the preparation of such an all-inclusive report, division captains in several parts of the city today ordered their clerks to start getting out files, desk journals and documents pertaining to anti-gambling duty by their men.

The division commanders began assembling the available facts, in anticipation of a request from the commissioner for detailed station reports.

Some idea as to the task facing police could be gained from Bushnell's request of brief descriptions of the activities of the patrolmen assigned to the drive on horse and number pool bookies, even descriptions of instructions given the men and a full "picture" of their work.

Such a detailed report would give the attorney general the names of all persons arrested, questioned or put under surveillance by the Boston police in two years in regard to gambling activities, also locations of places raided or suspected of being gambling headquarters.

Text of Bushnell's letter, which opened by quoting Timilty's Dec. 17 statement, fully furnish me, at your earliest convenience, with a complete list of all Boston police officers, of all ranks or grades, that have been assigned to the work you refer to in the statement (Timilty's announcement of drive on horse rooms) during the years 1941-42, and up to the present time.

"Kindly describe briefly the nature of such instructions given to such officers and their activities."

"If arrests were made, kindly state the date and time, and the name of the person arrested."

"If prosecution in court followed, kindly indicate in what court disposition of the cases and dates thereof, with full names of defendants and offenses with which they were charged."

SEEKS LOCATIONS

"Please state, also, the dates on which each officer was assigned to such work, and where an assignment to such work was terminated, the date of such termination."

"In order to make this information available as soon as possible, I would suggest that it be collected and forwarded to me for monthly periods, beginning with the past month and then proceeding, month by month, back through 1942 and 1941. In other words, I wish to have as quickly and as completely as possible an outline of all activities of the Boston police department during these years relating to the matters referred to above."

GANG DEATH DRIVER HELD

Alfred Gilberti, 37, of Warren-ton st., identified as the driver of the automobile in which Michael Carresi was taken to City Hospital in a dying condition, today was held in $10,000 on a charge of assault with intent to murder by Judge Charles A. Brown in East Boston court.

Lawrence Carresi, a brother of the mystery shooting victim, and Frank Cassello were released in $500 bail as material witnesses.

Gilberti pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Jan. 30.

Police continued their search today for two other suspects in the shooting in an East Boston's tenement house in Saratoga st., early Thursday. The victim's condition remained serious, hospital attaches said.

The victim, who gave his address as Bennington st., East Boston which police say is a restaurant, has also refused to name his assailant.

Carresi has been identified by police as a brother of Salvatore "Big Student" Carresi, racketeer who was shot to death in October, 1940 in connection with a shake-down racket in the West End.

"Big Student" was once the bodyguard of "King" Solomon, murdered former operator of the Coconut Grove night club.

FRENCH DOING MOST IN AFRICA AS ALLIES FUSS OVER LEADER

By GLENN BABB

Amid the clamor over the French political situation there is danger of overlooking the fact that French fighting men are getting ahead very well with the immediate job of expelling the Axis from Africa. In fact, during the last few days, while the American Fifth and British First and Eighth armies have been concentrating on their dispositions for the knockout blows against Nehring and Rommel, nearly all the Allies' African successes have been scored by Frenchmen.

Some of these fight under the Irraine cross of De Gaulle and some under the banner of Giraud. Fighting French columns under Gen. LeClerc has accomplished some of the brilliant military feats of the war, a 1000-mile advance from the heart of Africa to drive Mussolini's minions from the Fezzan region of southern Libya.

In central and southern Tunisia Giraud's men are keeping up a relentless pressure on the enemy, scoring valuable tactical gains and ranging deep in the desert near the Tunisian-Libyan frontier.

Another heartening indication that Frenchmen are rapidly getting ready to claim major status in the anti-Hitler alliance is the appearance of the new Lafayette Escadrille on the Tunisian front. The roles have been reversed: while in 1917 American fliers fought in French planes under French command, in 1943 Frenchmen fly American planes under American command.

Altogether there is plenty of evidence hundreds of thousands of French soldiers are more interested in the redemption of their country than in the squabble for political power.

Moreover there are signs that the elements of discord in that tragic turmoil in North Africa, which undeniably confronts the United Nations with one of the most dangerous tests of their unity, are being isolated and dealt with.

DRIVE STARTING SOON

Politics is not the only reason for the long lull on the African fronts; perhaps politics will prove to have been one of the least important. There are also rain and mud and the necessity of accomplishing colossal tasks of reinforcement and supply.

But the winter rains will be over soon; we are told the engineers are performing miracles with these foul Tunisian roads; the Germans, who may be in a position to know, say that Gen. Montgomery's Eighth Army is nearly ready to strike again.

Convicted of Slaying Crying Baby's Father

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 (AP)—A shooting which grew out of a baby's outcries resulted in the conviction of Mary Slater, 68, on a second degree murder charge.

She was accused of shooting Lucien Boyen, 38, as the culmination of protests against the waiting of Boyen's baby in the apartment below hers. The conviction carries a sentence of from five years to life in prison. Sentence will be passed Tuesday.

TRAINING AHEAD—Naval Aviation Cadet Kenneth Johnson of Malden, departing with 129 others for Texas and Oklahoma for training, is bid farewell by his sister, Beryl, at South Station.

When a WAVE Is a Woman And Why

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (INS)—The squarely faced problem of "when is a WAVE a woman?" and came up with a diplomatic solution today.

Military procedure will prevail, the Navy declared, when a male naval officer meets a WAVE—unless the man is too much of a gentleman.

"The rules of military courtesy apply—rank takes precedence," Navy release stated.

"But because military courtesy includes deference to women and a senior's wish is an implied command, if a senior male officer indicates he prefers courtesy to women above the strict military usage the junior female should act accordingly, without any hesitation or embarrassing count-deference."

A WAVE ensign would normally stand aside for a male lieutenant. "But if the lieutenant indicates that he wishes the ensign to go ahead first, then she is supposed to go without fuss or feathers," the Navy explained.

When it comes to saluting, junior officers salute first, whether the officer is a man or a woman. WAVES, however, need not be saluted when wearing their hats in places men would remove theirs—in church or mass.

In the matter of addressing a WAVE, the Navy advises naval usage, in addressing a male officer by name, calls for the use of "Mr." for ranks below commander. A WAVE, therefore, is Miss or Mrs. Jones. "Aye, aye, lieutenant," or "Good morning, lieutenant," are fine if the name isn't used.

"The general policy regarding military courtesy toward and by the WAVES has been established on the basis that the Navy has no intention of 'defeminizing' the women in the service," the release said.

SENATE GROUP CHARGES JAPS IN COAST CAMPS PAMPERED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (INS)—The Senate Military Affairs Committee, declaring Japanese internees are being pampered, today took steps to return control of concentration centers for Japanese back to the Army.

Sen. Johnson (R.) of California, was named chairman of a subcommittee which will summon Dillon Myers, head of the War Relocation Authority, soon.

Senatorial investigation of camps, particularly on the West Coast, will be undertaken by a group headed by Sen. Mon C. Wallgren (D.) of Washington.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D.) of Colorado, charged before the committee schools and school teachers were being provided the Japanese while the people of Colorado cannot afford to provide sufficient educational facilities for American citizens.

"Why, the Japs are even being given fine bathrooms," Sen. Reynolds (D.) of North Carolina, added. "There have been demonstrations in the camps against the United States government, and Dec. 7, they even celebrated our defeat at Pearl Harbor."

"There is a definite feeling among members of the committee that supervision and control of these camps should go back to the Army."

Roxbury IVA Goes All Out in War Effort

Boys and girls of Norfolk House Center, John Eliot sq., Roxbury, of which Frederick J. Soule is director, are carrying out Junior Victory Army activities, including the studying of first aid, dress-making, cooking, dancing and physical fitness exercises, serving as couriers and gathering scrap materials.

They include Troop 17 of the Boy Scouts, several units of Sea Scouts, a troop of Girl Scouts and a group of Brownies.

The Red Cross first aid course is being given by the scoutmaster, John Slavinsky, assisted by John Sliva, to the boys of the troop, several of whom are couriers.

Older members of this unit are serving in Uncle Sam's armed forces and include Francis Broderick, "Dick" Soule, "Ace" Euscher, Joe Bagley, "Dave" Owens, Donald Dodge, George Dakin, and Paul Kaspert.

An indoor log cabin built in the basement of the Center and furnished with log benches, tables and fireplace, is the patrol's meeting place.

Hikes to the new log cabin at Scoutland in Westwood gives winter outdoor training for the troop which is now 25 years old and looking forward to an anniversary week program in February.

Sea Scouts of the Center have their own ship, the Norfolk II and meet frequently under the leadership of their skipper, Robert Cameron.

The girls, including the Girl Scouts, meet regularly also to study dress-making, nutritional cooking and similar subjects.

STATE POLIO CLINIC URGED

A prediction that Massachusetts some day will have an infantile paralysis foundation similar to that established at War Springs, Ga., was made today by John J. Hagerty, state chairman of the 1943 infantile paralysis fund campaign.

In asking support of all citizens in the drive, Hagerty said that the annual President's birthday ball parties would be held again this year, but because of war conditions they would be local and informal events. Referring to establishment of a state infantile paralysis clinic, Hagerty said:

"A central committee has been formed to pass upon permanent plans intended to make Massachusetts one of the leaders in the nation in setting up our own clinic with adequate facilities to care for our children. The time will come when we will have our own Warm Springs."

NEW COOK BOOK

Dainty Breads

By MARTHA LEE

TIME WAS WHEN a day each week was set aside in every home known as "baking day."

But today "baking day" is no longer part of the American homemaker's schedule, for at her bakery or grocery store—fresh every day—is a profusion of breads.

Still many a woman has the urge to display her own culinary skill from time to time. And a home-made bread is a treat.

NEW COOK BOOK

If you bake at home, even occasionally, we want to tell you about a delightful new recipe book that is yours for the asking. Appropriately entitled "The Bread Basket," this book is beautifully illustrated, packed from cover to cover with details on how to make yeast-raised breads successfully. And it contains over 70 kitchen-tested recipes, among them the favorites of food editors and radio commentators famous all over the country.

To get this book, simply address Martha Lee, Record-American, Boston, Mass. Send no stamps or money; the book is free to all who request it. Send for it yourself and tell your friends about it!

Following are sample recipes taken from the recipe book:

RAISIN BREAD

- | | |
|----------------------|----------------------|
| 1 cake yeast | 6½ cups sifted flour |
| 1 tbsp. sugar | 1 tsp. shortening |
| 1 cup lukewarm water | ½ cup sugar |
| | 1½ cups raisins, |
| | floured |
| | and cooled |
| | 1 tsp. salt |

Dissolve yeast and 1 tablespoon sugar in lukewarm water; add lukewarm milk and 2 cups flour. Cream shortening and sugar; add to yeast mixture and beat until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1½ hours. When well risen, add raisins, salt and remaining flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly. Place in well-greased bowl, cover and let rise again until double in bulk, about 1½ hours. Shape into loaves, place in well-greased pans to half fill, cover and let rise again until light, about 1 hour. Bake in hot oven at 425 deg. F. 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate, or 375 deg. F., and finish baking about 45 minutes longer. Makes 2 large loaves.

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

- | | |
|----------------|---------------------|
| 1 cup milk | water |
| 5 tbsp. sugar | 6 cups sifted flour |
| 1 tsp. salt | 6 tbsp. melted |
| | shortening |
| 1 cake yeast | |
| 1 cup lukewarm | |

Scall milk, add sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add to lukewarm milk. Add 3 cups flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add melted shortening and remaining flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead well. Place in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Roll out ¾-inch thick, and cut with 2½-inch biscuit cutter.

HOLLYWOOD goes authentic on skiing fashions these days, which is a relief after some of the get-ups they passed off as what the well-dressed skier will wear. A designer who first became famous in Austria has done these two outfits, worn by Bettye Avery and Margaret Hayes. Left, an Alpine costume of navy blue, with "valiant" red sleeves... fastened down the front with silver Swiss buttons. "Norge," is the name of the one-piece jumper suit of valiant red wool, right, worn over a windbreaker that looks like a peasant blouse. The staghead embroidery on the jumper bib individualizes the suit.—ANNICE BRINK.

Crease heavily through center with dull edge of knife and brush very lightly with melted butter. Fold over in pocketbook shape. Place close together in well-greased shallow pans. Cover and let rise until light, about 1 hour. Bake in hot oven at 425 deg. F. about 20 mins. Makes 4 doz.

SALLY LUNN

- | | |
|----------------|---|
| 1 cup milk | 1 cake yeast |
| 2 tbsp. sugar | ½ cup water |
| 2 tsp. salt | 3 eggs, well beaten |
| 4 tbsp. butter | 4 cups sifted flour |
| | Scald milk, add sugar, salt and butter. |

Cool until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add to milk mixture. Add eggs and flour to make a batter. Beat well. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2½ hours. Stir down and pour into well-greased shallow baking pan. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Sprinkle granulated sugar over top and bake in moderate oven at 400 deg. F. about 30 minutes. To serve, break into pieces, using fork. Serve warm with butter. Makes 1 large cake.

Who Pays Debt Of Soldier?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My husband was recently inducted into the Army. He had not finished paying a loan which the loan company says the co-makers will have to finish paying. Is it true that the soldiers and sailors relief act applies only to the one in the service, and that the co-makers are now responsible?

I feel pretty terribly about this, because I know my husband would be able to finish paying this loan after he returns from the Army. (MRS.) J. J. L.

As this is a legal question, I suggest that you take it up with the free Legal Aid Society in your city. They are organized for the purpose of aiding those who are in need of legal advice and cannot afford the services of a private attorney.

DASH OF WHITE REVIVES DRESS

By BETTINA BEDWELL

That good little basic black dress, which begins to look a little faded and morose this time of year, can get a shot that will give it charm and life, by adding some white to it. I have never seen more black dresses with white sparkling details added to them than I have seen in the new spring collections being readied for you.

And I might say that they look mighty attractive. There are hundreds of ways to add the white to your black dress. Narrow white ruffles of lingerie set around the neck and sleeves and down the front closing or at the pockets are used by some designers. White bows put at the neck, or on pockets, are another. White jabots are good.

The Charles Armour dress sketched is one of the newcomers to use white details. Made of black crepe, it has a white pique collar, to the lower edges of which are attached white pique bows. The effect is delightful.

Here's Your Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Friday, Jan. 15, 1943

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You are an individual of intelligence, usually of a mild and happy disposition—but can be very stubborn at times if rubbed the wrong way. You are handy, capable, and will stay at a task no matter how hard. There is much hidden talent which should be brought out by study and proper companionship. Succor your needs with religion and point to higher education. Birthdate of Walter Howey, editor, publisher, inventor.

Protective Lotion

Sale Repeated

By ARLINE GOULD

WITH RATIONING all around... hemming you in first from one direction and then another... it's awfully good to see one of our favorite sales arrive on schedule, and giving every bit as much wonderful value as it did before. They haven't rationed a splendid, soothing lotion for body and hands and face... and you may have the handsome $2 size for $1.

About the only difference is that there is but one size... and that the great 16-ounce one, which follows the government suggestion on buying in larger quantities to save containers.

From the laboratories behind this cosmetic, which happen to be among the most extensive, it's been discovered that anyone's skin needs rather frequent application of such a lotion as this. Most people seem to think an occasional splash is enough... but actually it should be used regularly. And to apply it sparingly, but often, is far more successful, than to try to soak up a lot at once.

DEMANDS MORE CARE NOW

They say here that skin demands more of everything in the winter to counteract both the drying winter elements as well as the insufficient lubrication supplied by the system in cold weather. The shimmering, creamy, pearly pink emulsion they've created contains softening ingredients that act as a shield between the skin and the elements.

Smooth on the lotion after your daily bath... it'll slip over your skin, sheathing it like a veil of down. And if it's at all rough or sore, you'll have the most delightful sensation of relief. Be sure to use an extra film over areas that redden and ache first, those that have a minimum of fatty tissue, such as elbows, knuckles, knees, ankles and wrists.

This lotion is a blessing to those who have to work in any atmospheric grime, whether it's on a farm or in a factory... for it leaves a protective film which receives the flying soil, instead of allowing it to penetrate the skin.

For all further details on this grand opportunity to buy a famous protective skin lotion, $1 for the $2 16-ounce size, phone Arline Gould, LiBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—If you can't bask in the sunny South, take adequate precautions here in the North against skin dryness and redness. Today Arline Gould tells of a half-price special on a grand protective lotion. Barbara Stanwyck poses.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

Effective Monday, January 18th, The Slicing Of Bread By Bakers Prohibited By The Food Administrator As A War Measure... So Now You Must Slice Your Own

HOW TO SLICE BREAD AND GET EACH SLICE EVEN

DON'T DO IT
THIS WAY

1 Holding bread not parallel to board edge leads to uneven slicing. Don't start in middle of loaf.

2 Cutting through the top of the loaf tends to break slice at top; makes it uneven, ruins texture.

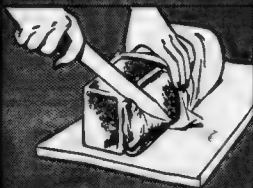

3 Don't look at the blade of the knife; if you do, the knife may cut on a slant.

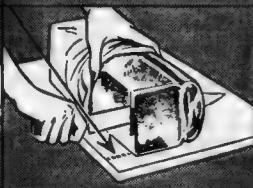

4 A dull knife causes "shredding." Forcing knife through loaf results in ragged, uneven slicing.

INSTEAD
THIS WAY

1 Hold bread parallel to board. DO NOT BEAR DOWN ON KNIFE!

2 Keep your eye on the point you want knife to cut through to.

3 Hold knife flat against loaf while cutting—straight up and down.

4 Use sharp knife with gentle sawing motion for clean, even slices.

GET WONDER BREAD

Slo-baked texture—easy to slice!

Brings you Vitamin B,

You will want to save the important chart you see above.

These pictures show what not to do and what to do in order to slice today's unsliced bread and get each slice even—top to bottom and across.

Now more than ever before you'll appreciate the easy slicing, firm texture of slo-baked Wonder Bread.

In addition, Wonder Bread contains Vitamin B, which vitamin, science discovers, is necessary in order to help transform bread into energy properly.

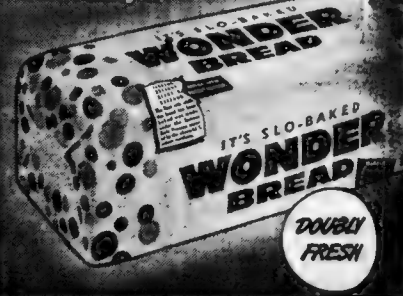

And 3 out of 4 people fail to get plenty of Vitamin B in their diet naturally, according to figures from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Then, too, Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it.

So get this easy-to-slice, doubly fresh Wonder Bread from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did!

GOTHAM'S DRIVE TO CLEAN UP CITY HITS NIGHT SPOTS HARD

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (INS)—New York city's drive to clean up the Great White Way, already successful on the stage, today was extended to the night clubs under a police order requiring proper clothing for girl entertainers and lily white dialogue in floor shows.

The order, issued by Police Commissioner Lewis Valentine, stated that "no female shall be permitted to appear in any scene, sketch or act with her body uncovered or so thinly draped as to appear uncovered."

It added that "no obscene or indecent language or conduct, offensive to decency or propriety, shall be indulged in by the entertainers or other participants in any scene, act or sketch."

Another part of the order barred photographing of patrons except by "a duly accredited member of the press." Within a few hours, five city nightspots challenged this portion of the order in a court action.

The stage show, "Wine, Women and Song," was recently closed in the city campaign to clean up night life. Three persons active in production of the show were convicted.

SALEM, Jan. 15—Billy Gardner, 7, of Salem, was in serious condition today, after he was found unconscious, with a bad cut near his left eye, beside the Boston & Maine railroad tracks near the Salem signal tower.

A B. & M. employee found the boy, officials said, but no train crews had reported striking anyone.

"I told him what his position was," Bennett wrote his parents, "told him where he could land and how he could find places in which to land, although he was obviously lost."

The next day, according to the signalist's communication, a warrant officer of the Royal Canadian Airforce landed at the air field and personally thanked Bennett for his timely intervention.

Two other brothers are in the armed forces. They are Corp. Sidney B. Bennett of the Army Medical Corps, stationed in Indiana; and, Sgt. Thomas Bennett, stationed in New Jersey.

Boston Automobile Club officials today awaited a reply from the War Manpower Commission to their telegram urging draft deferments for auto mechanics, automotive electricians and body repair men.

E. S. Harding, club manager, wired Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt that unless repair personnel is maintained a large portion of cars in New England will be forced off the road.

POULTRY SELLS FAST AS BEEF REMAINS SCARCEST OF MEATS

By PAULINE WARREN

Roast chicken will probably replace roast beef in many Boston homes for this Sunday's dinner for beef continues to be very scarce.

But there is plenty of poultry and the chains are selling roasting chickens at 43c a pound at all their big help-yourself markets. Fryers are 39c and fowl for boiling, stewing, pies and salads is 37c.

There is also an abundance of plump young turkeys and they're selling around 50c a pound for chilled Westerns and 52c for fresh native birds.

Some of the chains have a little lamb for sale and more pork than they had last week-end but they are likely to be exhausted early.

SPECIAL AT CHAINS

Compensation for the lack of red meat is a "special" at two of the big chains. This is big, fresh eggs from local farms at only 51c a dozen, the lowest price they have hit so far this season.

The better situation is still a sad tangle and only hospitals and similar institutions are getting the small supply which is available. Whenever a store gets a small allotment it nearly causes a riot.

Many housewives have become resigned to the shortage and are turning to other spreads. Peanut butter, for instance, is getting a run at one of the chains at 27c for a pound jar. It's nutritious, excellent for the children and still plentiful.

CAULIFLOWER LOW

Fruit juices are important in keeping colds away and one big chain is featuring Florida oranges at 2 dozen for 35c, the season's lowest price.

Another special, long on vitamins, is cauliflower at a new low price of 19c for snow-white heads.

At Faneuil Hall an exotic tropical fruit has just put in an appearance. It's Papaya melon, rich in taste, and quite large in size. It sells for 25c a pound and tastes like no other melon.

Beet greens are also in at one of the stalls at Faneuil Hall and are being snapped up. They sell for 20c a pound.

Some beef can be had at Faneuil Hall and it's practically the only place where it can be found. Prices are the same—30c a pound for Shoulder Roast, 65c for Top Round, 50c for Bottom Round, 45c for Rib Roast, 75 and 80c for Sirloin Steak and 75c for rolled Sirloin Roast.

Pork chops are 45c a pound and one stall has some lamb chops from yearling lamb for 50c a pound. Best hamburger is around 35 and 40c a pound.

Egg plant at 35c each and tiny new potatoes at 15c have just come in from Florida. Strawberries are high—35c a pint.

The transportation problem has not affected our getting fresh green vegetables from California, Florida and Texas. Carrots from California are two large bunches for 13c and Texas beets are only 6c a bunch at aid-yourself markets.

Turnips are 3c a pound and crisp green broccoli varies from 22 to 25c a pound.

EATING RIGHT IS HALF THE FIGHT!

LACK OF WHITE NYLONS didn't worry Sylvia Choate, yesterday's attractive society bride. A pair of lovely heirloom stockings was the solution to two questions—the proper hose and the inevitable “something old.”

The stockings, with their insets of real lace over each instep, were appropriate accessories for the bride's gown which was also an heirloom handed down by her Grandmother Crosby. Made of rich Chinese brocade the gown had an overskirt of real lace and a long tulle veil edged with rose point worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. K. Schuyler Choate.

Sylvia became the wife of Ensign Alexander Harvey Whitman of Cedarhurst, L. I., at a fashionable wedding in Leslie Lindsey Chapel, and among the many distinguished guests who kissed her as she stood in the receiving line at the Crosbys' home was none other than J. P. Morgan, American financier.

Mr. Morgan's wife was one of the Grews of Boston, a sister of Mrs. Stephen Van R. Crosby, Sylvia's grandmother, and also of Mr. Joseph Grew, our recent ambassador to Japan.

AS ONE GUEST EXCLAIMED when he approached the canopied entrance to the chapel, “It's decidedly a walking wedding.” There wasn't a private car in sight, except for the limousines used by the bridal party, and even J. P. came by cab. He left for the reception in a limousine shared by the Crosbys and the bride's mother.

An attractive trio of ushers' wives arriving together by shanks mare included Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Sydney Biddle and Mrs. Watson Dickerman. Mrs. Reed, the former Margie McKean, has been living in Gotham since her marriage but is now staying at the Copley Plaza while her soldier husband is stationed nearby. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean were wedding guests, and much to the delight of the latter the bridesmaids carried her favorite flowers—Lochinvar carnations.

Also at the wedding were Mrs. Benjamin Bradlee (Jean Saltonstall) a bride of last summer, with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frederick Bradlee, and her step-mother, Mrs. John Saltonstall. Mrs. G. W. Hall Smith, Jr., came with Mrs. Dick Williams and stopped to greet Mrs. Ben Gardiner (Sister Sears) whose bridegroom is overseas. Sister and her mother, Mrs. Francis Sears, looked like twins, both in modish black trimmed with skunk and twin corsages of pink and red roses under their chins.

Speaking of twins, Sally and Ann Wigglesworth were dressed exactly alike except for their feather hats, one of which was salmon pink and the other baby blue. Their dresses were black bengaline topped with short gray kidskin jackets. Mrs. Dunbar Lockwood wore pink camelias on her mink cape and carried a round mink muff.

In the letter he told his parents how a single-engine, yellow colored plane was seen flying low and in evident trouble over Millinocket. Telephone calls from alert residents poured into the radio station, in charge of Bennett, at the airfield, notifying him of the seemingly troubled airplane.

Bennett broadcast to the pilot, discovering that the RCAF flier had a radio receiver but no transmitter in the plane.

"I told him what his position was," Bennett wrote his parents, "told him where he could land and how he could find places in which to land, although he was obviously lost."

The next day, according to the signalist's communication, a warrant officer of the Royal Canadian Airforce landed at the air field and personally thanked Bennett for his timely intervention.

Two other brothers are in the armed forces. They are Corp. Sidney B. Bennett of the Army Medical Corps, stationed in Indiana; and, Sgt. Thomas Bennett, stationed in New Jersey.

Auto Club Waits
An Answer to Plea

Boston Automobile Club officials today awaited a reply from the War Manpower Commission to their telegram urging draft deferments for auto mechanics, automotive electricians and body repair men.

E. S. Harding, club manager, wired Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt that unless repair personnel is maintained a large portion of cars in New England will be forced off the road.

File Few New Bills

With only 718 bills on file in the House and 215 in the Senate, less than half the total for the corresponding date two years ago, the Massachusetts legislature today appeared to be prepared to dispose of its business in record time.

Today is the last one for the filing of bills and petitions.

POULTRY SELLS FAST AS BEEF REMAINS SCARCEST OF MEATS

By PAULINE WARREN

Roast chicken will probably replace roast beef in many Boston homes for this Sunday's dinner for beef continues to be very scarce.

But there is plenty of poultry and the chains are selling roasting chickens at 43c a pound at all their big help-yourself markets. Fryers are 39c and fowl for boiling, stewing, pies and salads is 37c.

There is also an abundance of plump young turkeys and they're selling around 50c a pound for chilled Westerns and 52c for fresh native birds.

Some of the chains have a little lamb for sale and more pork than they had last week-end but they are likely to be exhausted early.

SPECIAL AT CHAINS
Compensation for the lack of red meat is a "special" at two of the big chains. This is big, fresh eggs from local farms at only 51c a dozen, the lowest price they have hit so far this season.

The butter situation is still a sad tangle and only hospitals and similar institutions are getting the small supply which is available. Whenever a store gets a small allotment it nearly causes a riot.

Many housewives have become resigned to the shortage and are turning to other spreads. Peanut butter, for instance, is getting a run at one of the chains at 27c for a pound jar. It's nutritious, excellent for the children and still plentiful.

CAULIFLOWER LOW
Fruit juices are important in keeping colds away and one big chain is featuring Florida oranges at 2 dozen for 35c, the season's lowest price.

Another special, long on vitamins, is cauliflower at a new low price of 19c for snow-white heads.

At Faneuil Hall an exotic tropical fruit has just put in an appearance. It's Papaya melon, rich in taste, and quite large in size. It sells for 25c a pound and tastes like no other melon.

Beef greens are also in at one of the stalls at Faneuil Hall and are being snapped up. They sell for 20c a pound.

Some beef can be had at Faneuil Hall and it's practically the only place where it can be found. Prices are the same—50c a pound for Shoulder Roast, 65c for Top Round, 50c for Bottom Round, 45c for Rib Roast, 75 and 80c for Sirloin Steak and 75c for rolled Sirloin Roast.

Pork chops are 45c a pound and one stall has some lamb chops from yearling lamb for 50c a pound. Best hamburger is around 35 and 40c a pound.

Egg plant at 35c each and tiny new potatoes at 15c have just come in from Florida. Strawberries are high—35c a pint.

The transportation problem has not affected our getting fresh green vegetables from California, Florida and Texas. Carrots from California are two large bunches for 13c and Texas' beets are only 6c a bunch at aid-yourself markets.

Turnips are 3c a pound and crisp green broccoli varies from 22 to 25c a pound.

The order, issued by Police Commissioner Lewis Valentine, stated that "no female shall be permitted to appear in any scene sketch or act with her body uncovered or so thinly draped as to appear uncovered."

It added that "no obscene or indecent language or conduct, offensive to decency or propriety, shall be indulged in by the entertainers or other participants in any scene, act or sketch."

Another part of the order barred photographing of patrons except by "a duly accredited member of the press." Within a few hours, five city nightspots challenged this portion of the order in a court action.

The stage show, "Wine, Women and Song," was recently closed in the city campaign to clean up night life. Three persons active in production of the show were convicted.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

LACK OF WHITE NYLONS didn't worry Sylvia Choate, yesterday's attractive society bride. A pair of lovely heirloom stockings was the solution to two questions—the proper hose and the inevitable “something old.”

The stockings, with their insets of real lace over each instep, were appropriate accessories for the bride's gown which was also an heirloom handed down by her Grandmother Crosby. Made of rich Chinese brocade the gown had an overskirt of real lace and a long tulle veil edged with rose point worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. K. Schuyler Choate.

Sylvia became the wife of Ensign Alexander Harvey Whitman of Cedarhurst, L. I., at a fashionable wedding in Leslie Lindsey Chapel, and among the many distinguished guests who kissed her as she stood in the receiving line at the Crosbys' home was none other than J. P. Morgan, American financier.

Mr. Morgan's wife was one of the Grews of Boston, a sister of Mrs. Stephen Van R. Crosby, Sylvia's grandmother, and also of Mr. Joseph Grew, our recent ambassador to Japan.

AS ONE GUEST EXCLAIMED when he approached the canopied entrance to the chapel “It's decidedly a walking wedding.” There wasn't a private car in sight, except for the limousines used by the bridal party, and even J. P. came by cab. He left for the reception in a limousine shared by the Crosbys and the bride's mother.

An attractive trio of ushers' wives arriving together by shanks mare included Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Sydney Biddle and Mrs. Watson Dickerman. Mrs. Reed, the former Margie McKean, has been living in Gotham since her marriage but is now staying at the Copley Plaza while her soldier husband is stationed nearby. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean were wedding guests, and much to the delight of the latter the bridesmaids carried her favorite flowers—Lochinvar carnations.

Also at the wedding were Mrs. Benjamin Bradlee (Jean Saltonstall) a bride of last summer, with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frederick Bradlee, and her step-mother, Mrs. John Saltonstall. Mrs. G. W. Hall Smith, Jr., came with Mrs. Dick Williams and stopped to greet Mrs. Ben Gardiner (Sister Sears) whose bridegroom is overseas. Sister and her mother, Mrs. Francis Sears, looked like twins, both in modish black trimmed with skunk and twin corsages of pink and red roses under their chins.

Speaking of twins, Sally and Ann Wigglesworth were dressed exactly alike except for their feather hats, one of which was salmon pink and the other baby blue. Their dresses were black bengaline topped with short gray kidskin jackets. Mrs. Dunbar Lockwood wore pink camellias on her mint cake and carried a round mink muff.

Hedy Lamarr Easily Tops All Tondelayos--See Her, Boys!

By PEGGY DOYLE

Twitterpated over Tondelayo? Lads, it's obvious. And she's obvious. But it's doubtful if the famous gimme-gal of Leon Gordon's 23-year-old ubiquitous stage hit, "White Cargo," was ever impersonated by a more convincing enchantress than presently on Loew's twin screens.

Those assorted tenor-to-baritone gasps that have been echoing down the years since this sensational footlights best-seller first vamped an audience always seemed a bit on the corny side. But since observing Miss Lamarr's heady allure in Metro's new and revealing version of a sarong... well, you may have something there.

Of course, Hedy, who proved herself a star in "Tortilla Flat," is called on to do nothing more than be as gorgeous as she is in "White Cargo." This latest of the Tondelayos might just as well revise that innocent line to "I am Hedy," because under that all-over milk-chocolate dip created by the studio's Jack Dawn you know the most glamorous of Hollywood's glamorous girls isn't acting, doesn't need to to sell the male majority in the audience that she is sheer enchantment.

Speaking for the staff side, even before "Mrs. Miniver" and "How Green Was My Valley," Walter Pidgeon has been our weakness. He's in strange company, for him, in this once hectic, now comparatively romantic drama.

His tough but not entirely unimpressible Harry Fitzel is a thankless, if successfully accomplished, assignment.

Richard Carlson, who follows Bramwell Fletcher and an endless parade of other standard young Britishers who confuse life in the rubber jungle with those extinct South Seas travel ads, plays his part adequately and without distinction. As much can be said for Frank Morgan's bluff, liquor-befuddled "Doc." Henry O'Neill's missionary has dignity and restraint.

But you'll go crazy, boys, over Hedy... the only new thing in this indestructible oldie, that and her snazzy lurong... if the script's damp-rot doesn't get you.

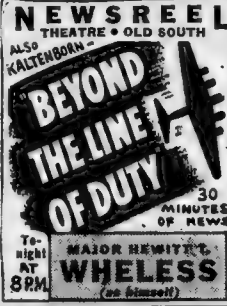

The co-feature, "Friendly Enemies," features Charles Winninger, Charles Ruggles, James Craig and Nancy Kelly in a bit of American.

FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—'For Me and My Gal' On Esquire Screen

Judy Garland, George Murphy and Broadway's Gene Kelly in "For Me and My Gal" should cause a cheering jingle at the Esquire box office today. The companion feature, on today's new bill, is "Get Hep to Love."

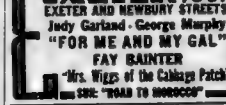

LIKEABLE RONALD REAGAN, speaks the narration for "Beyond the Line of Duty," now at the Old South Newsreel.

Copper Admits You to State Show

A single pound of copper is your ticket to tomorrow's 9 a. m. copper scrap show at Loew's State Theater. The gross receipts of the show will be converted into cash and turned over to the Theatrical Lieut. McAuley American Legion Post for charity.

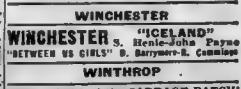

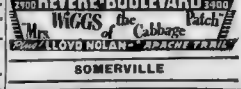

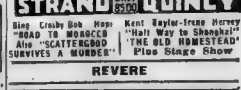

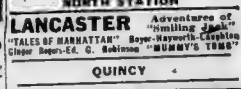

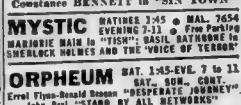

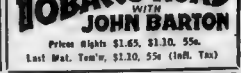

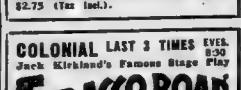

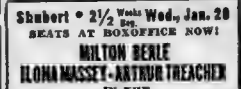

The two-hour unrelenting will include "What Price Victory!" the U. S. Defense reel; Pete Smith's "Aero-Nutics"; "Melodies Old and New," an Our Gang comedy; "West Point on Hudson," a travelogue; "The Flag Speaks," a miniature production and other comedy shorts and cartoons.

Valerie Parks Tops Howard's Late Show

Scintillating Valerie Parks and that bright boy with the patter, Jack Diamond, are to be the twin stars of tonight's midnight burlesque show at the Old Howard, starting at 11:30. Others in the lineup are Terry King, Ethel Deveaux, June Marshall, Harry "Shuffles" Levan, Lester Mack and Ned Walsh.

Benny Scores His Best Acting to Date in Met Hit

By PEGGY DOYLE

Benny, who has just completed five weeks of troupe work on the Sam circuit along our Cold Coast, is fresh as a daisy and giving his best performance to date on the Met stage.

Ann Sheridan

The picture is Warner's version of Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's unfunny stage farce, "George Washington Slept Here." This time and in this medium and plus Jack Benny's strictly swell, home ownership and Ann Sheridan's charming, sympathetic wife, to say nothing of Percy Kilbride's celluloid repeat of his effortless, dry characterization of the lackadaisical hired man, "G. W. S. H." is a thoroughly amusing fire-side comedy.

In the current translation, they have reversed the charges. The husband is the city-loving half of the marital partnership and it is the tradition-conditioned wife who rooks him into ownership of a tottering, leaking house, circa 1776, in which our first President was alleged to have slumbered.

Benny's barely controlled exasperation and eventual droll resignation before and after taking his mate's bad news are evidence of his greatly improved acting skill since he's gone on the grape nuts regime. Oh, yes, he clowns and gags and slapsticks around as much as ever, but these are just the grace-notes . . . not the whole score.

It's Benny's picture, but Miss Sheridan and Kilbride, who, incidentally was the best thing in the original stage production which premiered here, are right up there with him giving him generous support. Miss Sheridan, too, gets inside the wife role, making it tick. She has shed her siren hugme-tights for a simple but smooth suburban wardrobe but, even in a bungalow apron and with her hair in a kerchief, she's an eye-soothing sight.

Another fugitive from the footlights, Charles Dingle of "Little Foxes" memory, is in the cast. Dingle is again flaunting a pair of phantom horns in the character of a crosspatch neighbor who'll share a well or a road with nobody including Warner's No. 1 Oomph Girl.

Other well-known ex-stage stars in the cast are Charles Coburn, excellent as the crusty, dissembling rich uncle, and John Emery, just so-so as the great lover of the straw hat circuit.

William Keighley's direction keeps the laughs bouncing straight through the footage.

The co-feature, also a Warner's release, is "You Can't Escape Forever," which teams George Brent (Miss Sheridan's ex) with Brenda Marshall.

Concert Opens Cushman Club

The first formal event to signalize the opening of the new Charlotte Cushman Clubhouse at 86 Beacon st. was the joint concert last night of Erno Balogh, pianist, and Janet Bush, mezzo soprano.

Janet Bush

The concert took place in the large ballroom of the club, which is endowed as a place of residence for women of the theater. Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, president, received the many guests, which included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taft, Mrs. Alvan Fuller, Mrs. Charles Edward Bacon, Mrs. John Mosley Abbot, Mrs. Ezra Ripley Thayer, Mrs. Daniel de Menocal, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird.

The musical program began with a group of German lieder, eloquently sung by Miss Bush. Included were two of Brahms, one of Beethoven and the vast magnificence of Schubert's "Die Altmacht." Arpad Sandor was a sympathetic accompanist.

Erno Balogh, distinguished Hungarian pianist, played with charming finesse a Chopin group including the famous A-flat Ballade and the Fantasia Impromptu in C-sharp Minor. Mr. Balogh's other numbers included "Demonic," a composition of his own; a number by Ravel and a dashing Paraphrase of Strauss' "Die Fledermaus."

'Best Foot Forward' Lively Show for RKO Boston Fans

By DON WARD

"Best Foot Forward," George Abbott's sizzling stage show once the hit of Broadway, is now being performed at the RKO-Boston in a "telescoped" version.

It features the genial comedian, Marty May; Joy Hodges, the pretty singer from the movies; Betty Ann Nyman, the Four Franks, the two Lynn Brothers and a dancing chorus of boys and girls that all but knock themselves out in the strenuous and colorful routines.

On the RKO-Boston screen is none other than Marlene Dietrich in the new film, "Pittsburgh," showing what happened in a most melodramatic manner in the olden days of the famous steel town. Principals include Randolph Scott and John Wayne.

The crowd took to "Best Foot Forward" right away. Particularly enjoyed were the antics of Marty May who, with his fiddle to help him, satirized opera singers, tenors, basses and sopranos, right and left. Then too, there was Joy Hodges and her singing of "Hip, Hip, Hurry," "That's How I Like the Blues" and "What Do You Think I Am?" Miss Hodges and Mr. May got together nicely in a comedy sketch about how to Make Love in the Movies.

The show was stopped in its tracks by the Four Franks, Maureen Cannon was likewise noisily received in "Shady Lady Bird," with the Abbott Boys and Girls to dance the whole thing out afterward.

Those Lynn Brothers and their Mirror Dance were something to see, too. And as for the finale, "Buckle Down, Winssocki," it still rings the bell in any theater.

In the Armed Forces

Chaplain Thomas J. Norton, former curate at Mission Church, Roxbury, is on duty at an Army air base somewhere in the Pacific, according to an official Army announcement.

Theodore Thibodeau, first class cook, U. S. Coast Guard, stationed at Southampton, Long Island, N. Y., is on leave with his family at 141 Pleasant st., Watertown.

Reginald Wilder of Franklin st., Cambridge, has been commissioned an Army second lieutenant following graduation from Officers' Candidate School, Ft. Benning, Ga. He entered the Army March 10, 1941.

Pfc. William F. Thomas of Albany st., South End, and Pvt. Francis D. Bradley of East Ninth st., South Boston, are on duty with the Army Air Force at Will Rogers Field, Oklahoma. Both are members of a bombardment squadron.

Leo W. Diehl of Howes st., Dorchester, and John McKeon of Newport st., Dorchester, led their classes in recent tests at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Station. Diehl is training for shipfitter duties and McKeon is preparing to become a gunner's mate.

James Abel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel of Gaston st., Medford, was awarded his wings as an aerial gunner at Fort Myers, Fla., and was promoted to sergeant. He was transferred to Colorado for gunnery instructions before joining a combat unit.

Listen, World! A Richer Life

By ELSIE ROBINSON

BIG CARLO is ploughing. There's snow in the making somewhere. You can feel the sour, flat smell of it and that strange waiting stillness that comes before the flakes.

Carlo is racing against the snow. Already the large fields have been harrowed and seeded and the red oats are up five inches on the sunny slopes. Now the tractor is roaring over this last patch.

The tractor seems filled with hot, ruthless life in the midst of all this silence. Its blades cut deep. It fights the rich, webbed dirt which has lain unbroken for years.

Then the tractor circles around the upper slope and disappears.

I WATCH; I think how different the scene is now than it was last summer and will be when the spring is here again. These long neglected acres will be changed. There will be miles of rippling forage where, this year, there were only weed- and thorny chaparral.

Then my eyes fell on young Louis and the joy went out of me. Louis is big Carlo's son. He is 19 and has spent nearly all his life on this land. Now he is tall and powerful and can swing the tractor as well as his father. And next week he enters the Army.

What those two are thinking as they work silently together I dare not imagine. For Carlo there must be galling memories. As a boy, during the last war, he spent nearly nine years in the same Libyan desert which Louis may shortly know. He speaks seldom of that time, but he hates the waste and suffering with a black loathing. They cut into his youth and ambition like a plowshare. They broke his roots. When the soldiering was over, he fled to America.

SINCE THEN he has built a home and family. He has had great dreams for that family. Now he cannot see ahead. The plough is moving again—cutting deep. What will come of it?

I think of these things as I watch. I think of all the other homes where the plough is cutting. My heart rebels. Why must it be like this? Why cannot life stay serene and undisturbed?

And again, I look at the field. Every foot of this western frontier has been broken like this. There was no food or freedom until the ploughs came. And lives are as arid as fields until they too have been opened by some deep blade. Always a ploughing before there can be a wider, richer life. Is that the answer to pain? And will peace and abundance come again to our lives as surely as it will come to these hills with the spring?

What's the use of knowing your ABC's if you can't get gasoline with them?

I thought I was a slicker when I got a B card. The cop stopped me and said, "Where are you going?" I said, "Home," and he said, "Is that pleasure driving?"

Well, I didn't answer him because my wife reads the papers.

We live on a farm six miles from the railroad station either way. The oil burner has gargled its last. My wife used the coffee grounds four times.

The fifth time I guarantee the coffee will be out on the grounds.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

International News Staff Writer Flash—OPA spokesman says ersatz "Victory Sausage" soon will replace hot dog!

Flash—So what?

Evolution of the hot dog: Frankfurter, frankfurt, frank, victory sausage.

The frankfurter was invented by a butcher with a half pound of trimmings and a rubber glove.

He stuffed the fingers with meat, care and spice, amputated at the joint and concealed his crime in a roll.

As the police closed in he smothered it with mustard and said "they can't prove a thing without the body."

When they asked him what it was he said "it's a frankfurter." They said "that's a lot of bologna!" He said "that's exactly right—now will you try for the $64?"

Thought for the day: No matter how thin you slice it—it's victory sausage.

SAMUEL WOOD

Odd Fellows' Leader

Samuel Wood, 65, of Newbury ave., North Quincy, grand scribe of the Massachusetts Odd Fellows, died today at his home following a short illness.

Active for the past quarter-century in the Odd Fellows, Wood was a member of several Quince lodges and at one time served as grand representative of the Massachusetts Odd Fellows.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emily Wood, and a son, Herbert, both of Quincy.

Funeral service will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Atlantic Methodist Church, with the Rev. John J. Montgomery officiating.

FRANK H. BROAD

Oldest Lynn druggist

Lynn's oldest druggist, Frank H. Broad, is dead at the age of 86 following a brief illness. He had operated a pharmacy in Union st., Lynn, for nearly 60 years and made his home above the store.

Born and educated in Lynn, he was a graduate of the R. I. School of Pharmacy. His fraternal associations were numerous, including several branches of the Masons and Odd Fellows. Funeral services will be held Sunday.

JOHN F. MAHONEY

Leather firm foreman

Services for John F. Mahoney, Lowell st., Peabody, a veteran of the last war and for many years foreman for the A. C. Lawrence Leather Co. in that city, were held this morning with a solemn high mass of requiem at the Star of the Sea Church in Marblehead.

CHARLES H. GOLDWAITE

Brocton realty man

The funeral of Charles H. Goldwaite, 73, of Walnut ave., Stoughton, former pharmacist and well known in the real estate business in Brockton, will be held from his home at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of Aleppo Temple.

Service Women Ride Free in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (INS).—The WAACS, WAVES and members of other women's units of the military services got their break today. From now on, during certain periods and excluding the rush hours, they will be able to ride free on Chicago's street cars the same as soldiers and sailors.

Consider a Massachusetts Sweepstakes

THE POSSIBILITIES of a Massachusetts Sweepstakes, with the race to be run at Suffolk Downs, is being considered by people who would like to see the State rather than gambling syndicates benefit from the public's desire to risk its money. England, Ireland, Australia, many South American countries and numerous other countries have staged sweepstakes in which a large amount of the money raised came from the United States.

HENRY LONG

The American people are gambling minded, and have always been that way since Columbus with a belief and courage set sail across the Atlantic. The Pilgrims who came to this country on the Mayflower gambled they would be able to gain religious freedom and a livelihood. So did the thousands of immigrants who came to this country from all parts of Europe and the British Isles.

The man who opens a little corner store gambles that he will be able to take in more money than he has to pay out. So do the industrial giants who made America.

This is why those persons who tell people they shall not bet on a horse race, a dog race or purchase a ticket on a lottery do not get much of a hearing.

The people in high places in government recognize this and this is why they are considering a national lottery, and also seriously thinking of licensing rooms where one may make a bet on a horse or dog race. If it is not sinful or illegal to make a wager on a horse race at Suffolk Downs or a dog race at Wonderland Park, it is difficult to convince folks they are doing wrong if they place their wager with their favorite bookmaker as he walks aimlessly through the streets of Boston, or sips a cup of java in one of the downtown eating places.

State May Take Over Gambling Business

HIGH STATE officials know all this, and they are waiting for the right time to take over the entire betting business. If people are going to risk their money on various sports and games of chance, it is better that the State or Federal government should control things than that it should be dominated by gambling syndicates which often succeed in corrupting public officials.

The State certainly can use the money that would be derived from a sweepstakes, the every day race card and from lotteries. Old Jawn Public's back is about broken carrying his tax load, and he would like to see the State rather than racket kings get the soft gambling money that is being tossed around by defense workers, office employees and by folks in business and in the professions. Now that there are so many things which one cannot buy the temptation to bet is greater than it ever was.

Could Sell Sweepstake Tickets at Suffolk Downs

LOU SMITH OF Rockingham Park once considered the advisability of holding a sweepstakes. Rockingham Park or Agawam Park, outside of Springfield, would have furnished ideal spots for a sweepstakes. The race could have been started in either of these tracks, and then carried over a country course with the finish at the track.

East Boston would hardly be a good spot in which to turn a field of thoroughbreds loose, but it would be possible to arrange the infield at Suffolk Downs so that the race could be run inside of the track. There is a tremendous amount of acreage in the infield at Suffolk Downs which could be used to advantage. Then there is the regular track.

It is also possible that some of the land back of the barns could be used. I would not wish to carry the course into the Paddock Club because the thoroughbreds might upset too many glasses of scotch and soda, and ruin the social standing of some of the members.

Tickets for the Sweepstakes could be sold from the day it was announced. All tickets would have to be sold at the track. Licensed horse rooms, if in existence at the time, could also be utilized. I would say as a guess that the handle from such a race would easily amount to $1,000,000. Tax Commissioner Long would not be adverse to seeing $100,000 of this money placed in the public treasury to help offset the loss of money that used to be raised from gas taxes.

Federal Tax Experts Eye Nugget of Gold

THE FEDERAL TAX experts have had their eyes on this nugget of gold for some time. They are likely to beat the State tax experts to the Sweepstakes and lottery spoils.

In recent years, the Federal tax experts have been burning the midnight oil trying to devise new methods to get money. It is necessary to do so in a war where billions of dollars are spent. Even the reformers would rather have Federal lotteries than be completely flattened by additional income tax levies.

OLYMPICS HAVE 57 MEN IN ALLIED ARMED FORCES

THEIR DAY is Sunday. Hec Rousseau (left) Olympic winger, and Eddie Barry of Wellesley (right) Coast Guard winger, who will be given a purse Sunday afternoon at Garden by former fellow employees at Nichols and Sons Co. of Waltham. Barry is a former Olympic. Both boys were formerly employed by the Waltham plant.

By HERB FINNEGAN

Boston's Olympics play the U. S. Coast Guard sextet from Baltimore tonight and Sunday, and here is a hope the Garden is packed at both games. If ever a sports outfit deserved patronage it is these Olympics because they have contributed far more players to the armed forces than any other hockey club in either the U. S. or Canada.

Fifty-seven members in all have taken up arms, and if that total seems preposterous, here are the names to prove it:

Navy—Frank Ray, Keith Anthony, Bob Mee, Joe Lynch, Jack Harris, Ernie Garron, Al Dewey, Bob Bingham, most of them at

Army—President Walter A. Brown, major; Harpo Walsh, lieutenant; Perley Grant, Bill Spaine, Bob Priestley, Gil Priestley, Starr Owen, Vic Polich, Joe Patrick, Ben Bertinelli, Albridge, Ross (No. Africa), Cliff Thompson, Johnny Meoli, Medi Beland, Junie Cashman (No. Africa).

CUTTERS TOP LEAGUE

Marines—Jim Feeley (air), Art Shaughnessy, Eddie Aronson, Gaudencal.

Naval Aviation: Officers training school—Ray Chaisson, Mort Buckley, Herb Gallagher, Buddy Foster, Joe Reardon, Russ Allen, Danny Sullivan.

Glider troops—Al Baranowski, Jim Roberts and Sam Snow, at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941 and still there; Ed Berry, Coast Guard.

Canadian Army—Dr. Frank Shaughnessy, Clare Martin, Roy Voll, Jake Wade, Harvey McClelland, Jack McGill.

CRAF—Cy Biegler and Lloyd Grondall.

There's the list, and there's the reason why the Pics aren't leading the Eastern amateur hockey league.

But they're not far from the top. Here are the standings of the four leading clubs:

	G	W	L	T	Pts
Coast Guard	25	15	9	1	31
New York Rovers	26	14	10	2	30
Philadelphia Falcons	23	13	12	2	28
Olympics	23	13	9	2	27

Thus if the Pics can defeat the Coast Guardsmen twice on the week-end they'll be at the top or close to it. They may do it, too, because they have won their last three games and tonight they'll have the high scoring Gerry Paceoff 8:15 p. m.

Desrosiers back after an absence of two months, as they shoot for their fourth straight.

CHAISSON LEAVES SOON

It is a remarkable record because the Pics are playing with old-timers and kids. Some of the old-timers are in defense plants and can't play on the road; some of the kids are in school and can't play on the road.

As a result, the Pics have won only two and tied one in 13 starts away from home, playing with as few as eight men.

Four of the six starters against Coast Guard tonight are newcomers.

They are goaler Craig McClelland, defenseman Red Anderson, from Canada; center Ken Lundberg, and right wing Clarence Schmidt, from Minnesota.

Veteran standbys are defenseman Ty Andersen, oldest living undergraduate, and Ray Chaisson, who will be going back to officers' training school at Notre Dame shortly.

Norman Walker, a teacher in Dedham, and Bob Priestley,

Philadelphia pro Eagles' football end, are relief defensemen but Priestley, "who has helped us immensely," according to Chief McHugh, will be called into the service next week.

BASEBALL CAN TAKE LESSON

Other newcomers are Jerry Bauer, brother of Bob and student at Lowell Textile; Bob Jeremiah, coaxed out of retirement; Roger Bedard, from Ontario; Hec Rousseau, a kid from Waltham; Bill Meloche, an old-timer from Montreal; Freddie Maloon, old Dartmouthite now attending Harvard Business School, and young Eddie Reed from Watertown.

Baseball addicts who figured the national pastime would never go this year because of a shortage of ballplayers, can take heart from the lesson set by the never-say-die Olympics.

Giants, Yanks Row Over Series Dates

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Ford Frick, president of the National League, disclosed today he had received a formal telegraphic protest from the New York Giants over an exhibition series which the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees have arranged in conflict with games scheduled by the Giants and Washington Senators.

Frick said Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, had wired him "the New York club objects to the Brooklyn club invading its territory for exhibition games at Yankee Stadium April 17-18."

REVISE EXHIBITIONS

The Yankees and Dodgers announced jointly the revision of their two week-end exhibition series in April, augmenting the series from five to six games. According to Branch Rickey of the Dodgers and Edward G. Barrow of the Yanks, the two teams will play three games at Ebbets Field April 9, 10 and 11, and three more at Yankee Stadium April 16, 17 and 18.

The Giants claim it's their turn this year to finish the exhibition schedule at the Polo Grounds. With that in mind, they scheduled a pair of games with the Washington Senators here April 17, and 18.

BARROW FUMES

Barrow, president of the Yankees, fumed at the mention of a feud, declaring "we've got those games booked and they're going to stay booked. I'm not going to get into any silly arguments with anybody. There's no feud as far as we're concerned."

He acknowledged that he had received "some kind of a telegram from Mr. Stoneham" this morning.

"I don't know whether I will answer it or not," he added. "I don't know any reason why I should."

Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, said he also had received a telegram from Stoneham and didn't expect to answer it although he said the message was not offensive.

"I just don't consider that I am a party to the argument," he explained. "I regret the situation very much, but the arrangements for our games with the Yankees were left entirely to Mr. Barrow."

Pacino Bids For 10th Win

Larry Pacino, Roxbury, hopes to punch his way a notch nearer the world's middleweight championship tonight at Mechanics building when he steps forth to fight rugged Manuei Rossa, New York, in one of three eight-round main bouts of a colorful B. B. A. show.

Winner of 10 straight professional encounters, Pacino is moving rapidly to the top. He's won most of his bouts by kayoes, stopping Vic Triose quite convincingly in his last.

George "Sonny" Horne, Niles, Ohio, a brilliant 18-year-old fighter who Pacino may be forced to meet on his way to the top, will clash with capable Eddie Ellis, Quincy, in another of the eight-frame features.

In the third it will be welterweight Freddy Cabral, Cambridge, against Phil Norman, New York. Norman replaces "Cat" Robinson, forced to cancel this engagement because his wife underwent a serious operation at Jamaica, L. I., yesterday.

Willard Buckless, Saugus, will make his professional debut in the opening four, meeting Norman Ryan, U. S. Coast Guard. Buckless is the former National Amateur and All-America 147-pound champ.

In a six Joe Montoye, Fort Devens, who recently beat Jimmy Mulligan, faces Jack Caparelli, Roxbury.

McNUTT SAYS U. S. NEEDS SOFTBALL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 15 (AP)—A governmental green light for softball was flashed today by Paul V. McNutt, United States Manpower Commissioner and director of the office of defense health and welfare service.

In a telegram to Raymond Johnson, president of the Amateur Softball Ass'n of America, McNutt said:

"Today more than ever the American people are concerned with promoting their physical well-being and enjoying wholesome recreational sports and activities. Softball certainly is one popular and inexpensive sport which should be continued and extended."

"I hope therefore that the Amateur Softball Ass'n will make every effort to stimulate this worthwhile and wholesome sport."

Johnson said the telegram clears the track for an estimated 400,000 players to take to the diamond next spring for what he believes will be the sport's greatest season.

"In addition to this vast civilian army of softballers, members of the armed services will join in swelling the total," he said.

SCHOOL HEADS BOOST SPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP)—High school officials strongly back a program of emphasizing, rather than de-emphasizing, interscholastic athletics this year and feel it is their patriotic duty to do so.

This was revealed today by H. V. Porter, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Ass'ns, after a survey of schools in 40 states represented in the organization.

"Our survey showed that last September many school officials were on the fence, not knowing whether to continue sports or not," Porter said. "As a result, about 5 per cent of the schools dropped 11-man football. But now they are almost unanimous in the belief that it is their patriotic duty to carry on."

Clapper Out of Rangers' Game

By BILL GRIMES

Due to the fact that tomorrow night's game with the Rangers will be the fourth in eight days, Manager Art Ross ordered his Bruins to keep away from the Garden and also the Arena today.

The Rossmen are pacing the N.H.L. by a margin of four points over the Leafs. They held a stiff one hour work out yesterday and Ross is satisfied that they are ready for Rangers.

There were two absentees from the practise session, Capt. "Dit" Clapper and "Buz" Boll.

During the Hawks' game, Clapper was put out of action in the first period when he jammed on the boards with Bob Carse. He received a chest injury that didn't allow him to keep upright when he attempted to take to skate.

RENDERED HELPLESS

He was examined by Drs. Martin J. Crotty and Thomas A. Kelley, who bandaged his chest and ordered X-rays to be taken.

When he started to dress Wednesday morning to go to Dr. Paul Butler's for the X-rays, something snapped in his chest and he almost passed out. Unable to straighten up, he attempted to remove the bandage but without success for, during the night, the bandage had become rolled and the tape which held it on was underneath and he couldn't get at it.

Finally, he managed to get into some clothes and, bent over like a man in the late seventies, staggered down Bay State rd. to Dr. Butler's office.

During the taking of the pictures Clapper was still unable to sit erect and neither Dr. Butler nor the nurses could remove the bandage. But after the X-rays had been taken one of the nurses spoke to him, and when he turned his head there was another snap in his chest and he was O. K.

BOLL MAY BE READY

Just how long it will be before Clapper is able to return to the lineup is unknown. The X-ray pictures didn't show any break but the "stitch" has the veteran worried.

"Buz" Boll, who played against the Hawks Tuesday with a temperature of 101.6, reported at the Bruins' dressing room for practice after spending Wednesday in bed under orders from Dr. Crotty.

Hamie Moore, acting trainer of the Bruins, took Boll's temperature and found it a point over normal. So he ordered "Buz" back to bed and notified Dr. Crotty.

Boll will probably be back in the lineup against Rangers, but Clapper will be out for at least another week.

'Ready to Go,' Durocher Says

ROCHESTER, Minn., Jan. 15 (INS)—"I'm ready to go. That's about all anybody can say."

Thus, did Leo "The Lip" Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, react to draft board notice directing him to report for a physical examination.

Durocher is undergoing a complete checkup at the Mayo Clinic here.

"They haven't found anything wrong yet," he said.

LOSS OF AMBROSE HURTS B. C.'S MILE QUARTET

Loss of freshman Billy Ambrose has seriously affected Jack Ryder's chances of having a championship mile relay team at B. C. this winter. The Concord boy, state interscholastic champion a year ago, was doing 50 seconds for the 440 when he joined the Marines as the indoor season was about to open. Ryder still has three dandies in Herbert McKenley, Jim Kelleher and Frank Harris, and is hoping that Tom Greenan, Paul Murphy and John Carlsone can fill Ambrose's shoes. Greenan is an exceptionally fast sprinter, but

SANDYLEE WEILLE TO SKATE AT DERBY

Little nine-year-old Sandylee Weille, the youngest star to ever be featured in the Silver Skates Derby, will be one of the stars in the eighth annual ice classic at the Boston Garden a week from Sunday.

Despite her age, Sandylee is far from a novice. She has already appeared in Boston Skating Club ice shows and has made two appearances at Lake Placid ice carnivals while also being highlighted at the New Haven Arena.

Sandylee lives in Brookline and is a member of the Boston Skating Club.

ing Club. When only seven, she won the club's novice championship and last year amazed everybody by capturing the intermediate title before reaching the age of nine.

LONG LIST OF STARS

This talented junior, will do a specialty figure skating number as one of the Derby highlights and she's bound to make a great hit.

The addition of Sandylee comes close to completing the talent array for the Silver Skates Derby.

Adele Inge, world's greatest acrobatic figure skater, will leave the featured spot at the Hotel New Yorker to make her Boston debut; Edi Scholdan, who has been starred and acclaimed throughout Europe and North America, will put on two original routines; Janie Weiss, 13-year-old Walpole marvel who stopped the show last year, is back by popular demand and there will be one of two other headliners whose names will be made public early next week.

FIELD OF 300

Leaving the featured stars and returning to the Derby entrants—the backbone of this annual attraction, entries have been closed and the field will number well over 300.

The thrills and competition from these speed races makes a great show in itself.

Make the Derby a "must." Reserved seats are only 50 cents and are now on sale.

Camilli Wavering

LAYTONVILLE, Cal. Jan. 15 (INS)—Dolph Camilli, California rancher and star first baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, apparently is wavering on his decision to retire from baseball for the duration.

Asked today if he would accept Brooklyn's managerial berth if Leo (The Lip) Durocher were called into the Armed Forces, Camilli replied:

"I'm not thinking about changing my mind. I have plenty of things to keep me busy on my ranch right through the baseball season. But you never can tell about things like that."

Meet Director Ralph Colson announced today that Gil Dodds, B. A. A. miler, will not navigate the Malden oval in the mile as was announced.

ARLINGTON SEXTET TESTS SCHOOLBOYS' BEST SCORER

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Repeating the procedure of last week, The Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League will send its four first division teams into another torrid session at the Boston Garden tomorrow afternoon in the highlight of another Saturday which will find all three ice circuits again swinging into activity.

At the Arena ice house on the other side of the tracks, the Bay State loop will take over in the afternoon while the Eastern Mass. will complete a crowded week of hockey in the evening.

Special attention is drawn to the fact that this set of games at the North Station depot will get underway at 12:30 and from all appearances, the bigger portion of the thrills will start at the same time. For the opening half of the bill will find Stoneham tackling Medford and Arlington tangling with Melrose with Belmont vs. Rindge Tech and Newton vs. Cambridge Latin completing the program.

CAHOON TOP SCORER

Arlington, under the guidance of Ray Burke who will be taking over in place of Charlie Downs who received a commission in the Army, will be faced with the problem of stopping the high scoring commando attack of Ed Cahoon, league's leading scorer and ace of the Melrose six. The Red Raiders' offensive was somewhat bottled up last week when Medford assigned two players to Cahoon but not enough to prevent Melrose taking over the runner-up berth in the standings.

Arlington's high scoring first line of Mel Massucco, Jim Ma-zone and Ralph Cooley, blanked last week by Stoneham while taking over undisputed leadership, will try to make up for this absence from the tally column at the expense of the clever Wendy Holmes in the Melrose nets.

Stoneham and Medford, deadlocked for fourth place, will be facing the possibility of jumping up a notch, depending on the outcome of the feature tilt. Bill Doherty, Stoneham's star, will have plenty of competition from the classy Mystic trio of Fred Trebino and the Garrity brothers, Jack and Bill.

CAN SEW UP TITLE

And speaking of brothers, the Songins of Walpole, with Ed and Walter now being aided by younger Harold, will try to maintain their rapid pace while keeping their team in top place in the Bay State loop at the expense of Framingham, only other undefeated team in the league. A Walpole triumph would, on form, sew up this title.

Other tilts on the Arena afternoon program of this junior league will find Wellesley taking on Waltham; Norwood battling Needham and Boston College High trying to register its first points of the season against Watertown.

In the night session at the Arena, the Eastern Mass. schedule will bring together Brookline and pace setting Wakefield; Hudson, tied for the top, and Somerville; Dedham and Natick and Lexington and Malden.

Les Canadiens Fail to Sign Port Arthur's Laprade Boys

More Malones are coming up to pro hockey. Cliff, Jr., whose father played many games at the old Boston Arena for Quebec's Sons of Ireland, scored seven goals and was credited with an assist while playing for St. Michael's against St. Patrick's recently in Montreal. Cliff's cousin Joe, who is the son of the famous Joe Malone, who scored more goals in one season than any other pro, even Cooney Weiland, got two assists for the St. Pat's . . . Dick Carroll, Montreal Gazette columnist, must be a high pressure salesman. He got a conversation out of Frankie Brimsek a week ago than any Boston writer has been able to do since the Eveleth, Minn., boy replaced Tiny Thompson. According to Dink's quotes, Frankie stated the N.H.L. play isn't so smooth as it was a year ago . . . Cliff Thompson, Brimsek's old coach at Eveleth, developed two other N.H.L. goalies, Mike Karakas, formerly of the Blackhawks and now, of the R. I. Reds, and Sam LoPresti, who quit the Blackhawks to join the armed forces.

Les Canadiens are doing such a job on the amateur ranks of Montreal that it looks now as though the Royals and Canadiens (amateurs) will be obliged to amalgamate . . . Johnny Mahaffy and Glen Harmon, who were snatched from the Royals by Tommy Gorman, agreed to go with Les Canadiens because they are about to be enrolled into the Canadian army. Mahaffy is leading the Quebec Senior Hockey Ass'n with a total of 31 points . . . Gorman made a flying trip to Port Arthur recently to sign up the Laprade brothers, Bert and Edgar. He failed, for it was reported that the brothers had been notified by the Canadian National Defense Board they would not be allowed to transfer to Montreal . . . Beyond saying they had been refused "transfers" to go to Canadiens neither Bert nor Edgar would comment on the decision.
